OF DRUGS AND JUSTICE

10 ¢ PER COPY | OUR 61st YEAR | SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI, | FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1972 | 14 PAGES | NUMBER 105

Hearnes Dedicates Complex

'Another Sikeston Plus'

Calling the new 140-acre recreational comples "another plus for Sikeston," Gov. Warren E. Hearnes helped dedicate the park in ground breaking ceremonies held this morning.

Hearnes said young people today have "what we didn't have" at their age, and added that he hopes more will be done. He called the recreational complex a great start in helping young people face the problems of growing up in the modern world.

Mayor Frank Ferrell told the crowd of about 150 people that the park is not only for the people of Sikeston but, also, for the residents of surrounding areas.

The park, located north of the airport, on North Ingram Road, is being built with a 199,000 grant from the Department of the Interior. The funds were channeled through the Outdoor Recreation Department in Jefferson City, a department established during the first term of the Hearnes administration. The two men most responsible for the park's establishment — Raymert Miller, former city manager, and Ira Keller, former planning and zoning board chairman — were both present.

The park will include eight baseball diamonds, a par-three golf course, tennis courts, a small fishing lake, playground areas, picnic areas and room for later expansion.

The park is being built on a 750-acre city-owned site that includes the airport, Sikeston Country Club, and the soon-to-be- closed city landfill.

Hearnes Doubts State's Delegates Will Be Seated

By RON PORTER

The Missouri delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach will probably not be seated when the convention convenes on July 10, Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said today.

Hearnes was in Sikeston for ground breaking ceremonies for the new 140-acre city recreational complex.

The governor said he is pessimistic about the delegations chances of surviving the challenge when it goes before the credentials committee. Other states, such as Georgia and California, have had their delegations successfully challenged for not being consistent with new reform rules.

The challenges, except for the one in California, are being led by forces loyal to Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota. It was McGovern who wrote the new rules.

The Missouri delegation is being challenged because it doesn't have the required quota of blacks, women, and other minority groups.

Hearnes obviously doesn't think much of the new rules. Calling them undemocratic , the Governor said the delegates were elected by Secret ballot, and there is no way to regulate the number of minority groups winning in a free election.

Hearnes said he wanted more time to study the credentials committee ruling Thursday that stripped McGovern of half of the California delegation before commenting fully on it But he did say he ruling makes the California delegation fall in line with McGovern's past stands in favor proportional representation. He said the McGovern forces have always fought for proportional representation until they get 51 per cent of the vote.

Hearnes said the full convention may reinstate McGovern's share of the California delegation, but the ruling almost guarantees that the Senator will not get the nomination on the first ballot or before the convention begins.

The governor added that he doesn't believe McGovern can carry Missouri in November.

Hearnes also criticized Sen. Earl Balckwell's petition to require that all tax increases be submitted to voters for approval. Blackwell announced today that the petition had enough signatures to be placed on the ballot.

If passed by the voters, the bill would curtail the actions of government at every level, from the legislature to thelocal library district, Hearnes said.

Every governmental unit would be unable to move without voter approval, requiring one election after another, Hearnes said.

If there are enough signatures, he said, the proposal will be on the November ballot.

8 Bound Over On Burglary Charges

BLOOMFIELD — Jimmy McCanne, 17, of Dexter; Larry Findley, 18, Dudley; Larry Hisaw, 18, of Dexter; Darlene McRoy, 18, of Bloomfield; Candy Gosnell 18, of Dexter; Ricky Warren, 17, of Dexter; and Robert Glenn Gordon, 18, of Dexter each waived preliminary hearings Thursday in Stoddard County Magistrate Court before Judge Koss Blomeyer and were bound over to Circuit Court.

Biggest In History

Senate Adopts 20% Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted today a 20 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits—the biggest such boost in history.

The Senate action came in the face of a warning by President Nixon that such an increase would either strain the economy or push taxes up for millions of workers.

The increase was added as a rider to a bill extending for four months the present $450billion national debt ceiling.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, also would raise payroll taxes in 1973 and further in 1974 to pay for the boost.

In addition, it would put into effect for the first time automatic cost-of-living adjustments in Social Security.

The Church amendment would provide $8.5 billion in annual additional benefits for the 27.8 million recipients, the largest increase since the system was first set up in 1935.

The effective date for the 20 per cent would be Sept. 1 so that it first would be reflected in checks received Oct. 3, a month before the presidential national elections.

The debt limit legislation was expected to clear the Senate by mid-day and go back to the House.

There Republican leaders were threatening to block any action on he 20 per cent today although they said they might be willing to take 10 per cent cent.

The adoption of the Church amendment represented a Senate decision to lift the general Social Security increase out of the big Social Security increase out of the big Social SecurityWelfare bill which passed the House last year and which has been pending more than 12 months in the Senate Finance Committee.

Church said it appeared the bitter controversy over welfare reform in the bill might never be settled so that it was necessary for Congress to go ahead on the across-the-board Social Security hike.

The House in passing the big bill, voted for a 5 per cent Social Security increase.

But since that time Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, has said he favors 20 per cent and that this can be soundly financed. Mills helped draft the Church amendment.

The increase would be paid in all the three Social Security cash programs—retirement, family

Tax Signatures Ready, Says Blackwell Aide

He said more than enough signatures were obtained in all 10 congressional districts and the petitions will be filed with Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick next Wednesday.

Blackwell has made the antitax proposal the mainstay of hisu campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The proposed constitutional amendment would require a vote of the people on any new tax or tax increase at all levels of government — school district, city, county or state.

Anton said $60,96 signatures were obtained, with 90,000-plus needed.

He gave this breakdown for the number of petition signers in the various congressional districts:

1st District — 10,249; 2nd — 17,934; 3rd — 13,438; 4th — 16,119; 5th — 14,082; 3/4th — 16,803; 7th — 19,654; 8th — 20,505; 9th — 18,425; 10th — 13,749.

In a recent Springfield interview, Blackwell predicted he would win the Democratic nomination and thought he would face Republican State Auditor Christopher "Kit" Bond in the November general election.

He said his candidacy and the antitax feeling of the people "are tied so closely together as to be inseparable." He predicted hat would help him defeat Bond.

He said he started way ahead of all other Democratic candidates for governor and has stayed ahead.

Even though he becomes the nominee for governor, Blackwell said, he would not support the party's nominee for president.

County Tax Valuation Climbs $1.2 Million

BENTON — Scott County's annual report of assessed valuation to the state tax commission shows an increase of $1,268,290 for 1972 tax year.

The report, compiled by the county clerk's office, concerns real estate, personal property and locally assessed railroad and utilities. Still to be added to the tax books is the state assessed merchants' and manufacturers' valuations (M&M) and state assessed railroad and utilites.

Provided the property assessed by the state tax commission holds about the same value as last year, the county could reach a total of $65 million in assessment for 1972. In 1971 the total was slightly more than $63.2 million.

The assessment report filed last week shows a gain in the value of town real estate, with an increase of $545,800. Total farmland valuation decreased by $27,660. Personal property (cars, furniture, household goods) increased the most almost $822,600.

Locally assessed railroads and utilities decreased $72,450.

The 1972 totals for the four categories of property are as follows: Farmland real estate -- $17,806,860; town real estate - $23,212,908; personal property -- $8,490,280; local railroad & utilities -- $435,615. Grand total -- $49,945,735.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Have you ever noticed how well behaved an engaged girl is?

THE PEASANTS KNOW

These days in Vietnam, we are told by opponents of U. S. involvement in Indochina, the Americans are equivalent to the Nazis, and the South Vietnamese want to be liberated from the U. S. presence and the corrupt Saigon government.

Well, South Vietnamese peasants had the opportunity ... to demonstrate their hatred of American troops and the Saigon leadership when Communist North Vietnamese soldiers began to pour through the Demilitarized Zone to the South. If ever the weary peasants in scattered villages and relocation camps had a chance to welcome Hanoi's 'liberation army' to their war-torn land, this was it.

Instead, within hours, tens of thousands of peasants were fleeing south, to the sanctuary offered by the U. S. and Saigon. Rather than greeting the communist troops as their saviors and joining the 'anti-imperialist struggle,' the peasants tried in every way to evade the North Vietnamese.

This vivid demonstration that these frightened Asians do not desire to fall under communist control will, undoubtedly, be considered meaningless by those 'anti-war' Americans who not only want America out of Indochina, but also hope for Hanoi's victory.

Anti-war people have attempted to portray themselves as the only ones with compassion for the South Vietnamese "brutalized" by the American presence. Now, confronted with the peasants' manifest desire ... what will the war critics do? Ignore the significance of the event completely — just as they have ignored the demands of fact, reason, compassion, and sympathy throughout the war.

A TALE FOR ANY
JULY FOURTH

My father, a quite unorthodox editor, held that anniversary editorials were not read by anybody, his most cogent evidence being that he absentmindedly wrote a big, puffing salute to the Constitution, rather than the Declaration of Independence, on a July the Fourth — and not a single reader protested. He was right, but there is such a thing as writing to please one's self, and the death on July 4, 1826, of both Thomas Jefferson and John Adams is a timeless tale.

Jefferson wrote the Declaration, but Adams was at his elbow and had a weighty role in making good its adoption. Adams, Washington's vice president and himself the second President, became embittered at Jefferson, but a reconciliation occurred in their twilight, and both expired on the 50th anniversary of the Declaration.

While Washington must be accounted our greatest man on the ground that the Republic simply could not possibly have been born as it was without him, Jefferson shines in the pantheon as our most universal man. His versatility dazzles.

Adams, by contrast, was quite homely; "The John Adams Story" will never be a movie title, nor will he ever be a hot item with foraging biographers. He was squat and ugly with a large head; he was a dour Puritan, and the only charm about him was his wife, Abigail. But Adams was a brain, he was learned and tireless.

He governed well in many respects (if we forget about the Alien & Sedition Acts), but he was doomed to be a one-term President. And it was the tall, patrician Jefferson — lawyer, violinist, architect, investor, author, agronomist, diplomat, philosopher bon vivant — who defeated him.

ADAMS RETURNED to Quincy, Mass., racked by resentment of Jefferson's conquest. But by the time of Jefferson's retirement at Monticello, Adams was relenting; the bond with Jefferson would not burn out. He and Abigail had often taken care of Jefferson's motherless daughter, he and Jefferson had gone through much together as revolutionaries, and he greatly missed their philosophical taffy pulls. Too, his presidential defeat was indemnified by his son's election to succeed James Munroe.

When Jefferson's daughter died, Abigail felt bound to write Jefferson; he ardently replied, but it was still a long time before Adams thawed. At length, however, Adams ejaculated. "I love Thomas Jefferson and I always shall."

That got back to Jefferson, who rejoiced. Like Madison and Monroe, they were reconciled, and carried on a correspondence that bore on all learning, interlarded with their revolutionary rememberances. But it was growing late and Jefferson mused, "I am like an old watch, with a pinion worn out here and a wheel there, until it can go no longer."

On the Fourth of July, 1826, Adams' time had come. He murmured his last words: "Thomas Jefferson still survives!"

Not so. Jefferson had died peacefully that morning at ten minutes before ten.

The author includes all varieties of news distortion, such as protest marches. "The tendency to go from peaceful demonstration to forceful demonstration, or even riot," Mr. Michelson believes, "probably owes some of its popularity as a device for attracting attention to the fact that television cameras are present on the scene ..." On Vietnam, he writes that TV prefers "dramatic pictures," usually of a small battle action, rather than favorable statistics on pacification and Vietnamization.

Mr. Michelson, like the Vice President, believes that the three networks have a virtual monopoly of national news. Both men also think that the broadcasters, although on different networks, have a similar political bias.

Mr. Agnew has said this often and been called a "McCarthyite." Now an ex-network news president writes: "There is undoubtedly truth to the charge that there is generally a homogeneity of political attitude among most of the television news executives and correspondents. A large majority would probably subscribe to what is called a 'liberal' view of government."

A thorough indictment of TV news distortion, THE ELECTRIC MIRROR not only reenforces Mr. Agnew's criticisms, but adds others. TV's show-biz approach to things like politics is shown to be uninformative and prejudicial. Yet its author can hardly be called an advocate of centralized government censorship.

What is too often overlooked by the experts in taxation whether local, state or national is that many American taxpayers will balk when taxes are excessive in their estimation.

A case-in-point is that at least 400 million packages of untaxed cigarettes are sold annually in New York State, even though the tax is supposed to be 15 cents per pack.

Tax Foundation notes that due to bootlegging of cigarettes from lower-tax states, New York State and City lost $70 million in excise and sales tax revenues last year. The State Commission estimated that one of every six cigarettes smoked in the state is untaxed.

Bootlegging (?) cigarettes may seem riduculous -- but for those who live on the Missouri border where cigarettes sell for less due to a lower tax, it is a way of life.

NEW YORK (AP)—To Ms. or not to Ms.?

That may be the question for liberated American women, but it's obvious that the feminists haven't given a thought to the rest of the world.

If they had, they'd realize that the language of liberation loses something in the translation.

Take French, for example. A married woman is called madame; an unmarried one is addressed as mademoiselle. Find a compromise for that if you will.

Ms. just doesn't seem to fit in the language of love and the land of romance.

Would you believe GIs coming home from the war and singing about Ms. from Armentiers?

Things aren't much better in other non-English-speaking countries. There's senora and senorita in Spain, frau and fraulein in Germany. The length of the list depends only on your linguistic ability.

Actually, the language barrier isn't the only problem with the catch-all title dreamed up by the feminists.

Reams have been written about the problem of pronunciation. And none of the suggested solutions seem to work.

Try addressing someone by pronouncing the two letters separately. It sounds like you're reciting the alphabet.

The generally accepted "miz," on the other hand, sounds like something out of "Gone With the Wind." Not a very liberated image.

The new mode of address also offers more chance of o ffending.

In the old days, if you didn't know whether a woman was Miss or Mrs., you could guess and you had one chance in two of being right.

Now, with three choices, the odds are against you. Two times out of three, you'll pick the title the woman doesn't want.

It doesn't get women equal pay for equal work. It doesn't give them the right to own property or handle their own financial affairs. It doesn't give them the right to education, jobs or political office.

An no husband is likely to start helping with the housework just because his wife's letters are addressed to Ms. instead of Mrs.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department is quietly preparing to settle another multimillion-dollar antitrust case which, like the celebrated ITT case, will benefit contributors to the Republican cause.

ITT got a favorable settlement from the Justice Department after offering to help finance the Republican convention.

Now, the department is about to let five big drug firms -- Pfizer, American Cyanamid, Bristol-Meyers, Squibb and Upjohn -- off the anti-trust hook. Their corporate officers have filled the Nixon campaign chests with thousands and thousands of dollars.

The losers, as usual, will be the ordinary taxpayers who can't afford $1,000 political gifts or $100-a-plate tables at sumptuous fund raising dinners.

They stand to lose hundreds of Millions in overcharges for the lifesaving drug tetracycline. The Justice Department in 1969 charged Pfizer with "fraud" in obtaining its tetracycline patent. The other pharmaceutical firms were accused in a civil suit of unethical practices and "unlawful conspiracies" in selling the antibiotic.

If the fraud charge can be proved, the drug firms could be forced to pay back huge sums to conumers, medical groups, states and even foreign governments.

But a few months ago whispers of a settlement reached the ears of Federal Judge Miles Lord, the earnest St. Paul, Minn., jurist hearing the case. Disturbed, he took the extraordinary step of speaking personally with Richard McLaren, then the Justice Department antitrust chief, about the rumors.

STRANGE UNDERSTANDING

Judge Lord's concern turned out to be well founded. Not long afterward, Lewis Berstein, the Justice attorney in charge of the case, was ordered to inform the judge that a "general understanding" had been reached to settle.

Judge Lord listened, dumbfounded, to the Justice Department's proposal. Prosecution would be dropped, Berstein reported, in return for a $14.3 million payment by the drug firms. The money would go to the Treasury; the overcharged customers would get nothing.

Under this arrangement, not only would the patent fraud case be dropped but the drug firms would be fined only a fraction of what they would risk losing in court.

Judge Lord, hardly believing his ears, replied: "It stings me just a little bit when the rug is pulled out from under me...."

He indicated that the settlement would make it next to impossible for the victims to reclaim the millions they overpaid for tetracycline.

From competent sources, we have learned that the orders for a settlement came from then Attorney General John Mitchell, who is now President Nixon's campaign manager.

Richard Kleindienst, the new Attorney General, had nothing to do with ordering the settlement. But the compromise hasn't yet reached the state of a final, formal announcement. Final approval would now be up to Kleindienst.

A federal criminal case against Pfizer, meanwhile, is still pending after a convicton was reversed on technical grounds. Some consumer men are worried the Justice Department will try to kill these charges, too.

Footnote: Mitchell and McLaren failed to return our calls. Kliendienst told my associate, Les Whitten, that he had "no recollection" of the case.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

Spirit of '76 -- Jack LeVant, the venerable executive director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, has found an ideal spot to reflect upon the hardships of Valley Forge and the frigid Delaware crossing. He chose the sunny beaches of Jamaica, where he contemplated the rigors of 1776 in splendid luxury. The cost to the taxpayers: $121 a day. All told, LeVant has run up $8,450 in travel bills in his efforts to revive the Spirit of '76. Reached in a hospital, where he is recovering from a back problem, he grumped that our questions about travels were "threatening." Then he clammed up, citing "doctors' orders."

Cover Up -- When we told how two high Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) officials had received favors from an FAA contractor, the FAA should have started reforming. Instead FAA Associate Administratior Gustav Lundquist immediately ordered FAA personnel to stop talking directly to the press. His aim, apparently, is to paper over, not to root out FAA's corrupt ways.

Drug Story -- We recently reported that the Record Club of America, the nation's largest disc club, was marketing marijuana aids and other drug paraphernalia along with its records and tapes. The moment Vice President George Port learned of our story, he conferred with his aides by telephone at 3 a.m., re-evaluated the drug-oriented catalogue and decided the Record Club would drop it completely.

THIS IS FOR YOUR GOOD

The Citizens Lobby, a largely volunteer, unpaid organization, is circulating petitions asking for a vote in November on opening all public records to the public and ending for all time secret voting.

In Monroe County and in Paris we have seldom experienced any trouble of this sort. Our Public officials have almost always been fully cooperative.

But — there are many town and counties where this is not so and the people who pay the taxes have no way of knowing what is being done by who, or how their money is spent.

At the state level, all sorts of secret meetings are held with no record kept of how your elected representatives vote.

It is your right to know.

It is to your advantage to know.

You can help by signing the petition now. One is on the desk in the Appeal office.

"People are surprisingly ignorant about proper leather care," says Larry Probeck, president of a leather company in Dallas (Mohawk Leather Co.). Although fine leather furniture should occasionally be treated to professional refinishing, he suggests that homemakers can keep it clean simply by using cheesecloth to wash it with a soapy lather. Rinse off the suds, wipe with a damp cloth, then a dry soft clean cloth. "It is never necessary to oil leather, he adds."

INSPECTIONS OMITTED

The nuclear arms agreement signed by the United States and Soviet Union in Moscow left this country on the short end of the stick, even on the face of the pact. The Russians whose trademark is secrecy, can and probably will go us one better in the development of operation nuclear weapons. There was no mention in news stories of the summit talks on agreements for inspection, either by the contracting parties or neutral nations. Orbiting satellites can obtain a lot of intelligence on the construction of silos for nuclear missiles but they do not guarantee that we shall know everything the Russians are doing to stockpile weapons aimed at destorying the U.S. and its allies. The nuclear shield that we once boasted is iust about gone.

The strategic arms limitation treaty still must be approved by the United States Senate and we as citizens who don't want to see our country subjected to future nuclear blackmail can still get going on a campaign to influence that high legislative body. It will take a lot of letters, telephone calls and personal contacts where possible. It is to be hoped that the great majority of our Senate has studied the treacherous record of the communists and has learned that they can't be trusted. The government in Moscow has had a sorry record of pact-breaking since its inception in World War I. Now a nuclear arms limitation agreement has been signed which gives the Russians the advantage in all categories except anti-ballistic missiles and if they run true to form they will violate even the obvious advantage they have obtained in print. The U.S. Senate, however, will still have some say-so.

Another significant omission in the news stories originating from Moscow is any agreement that might have been reached on the release of our prisoners of war in Indochian. As we contact the members of the Senate, we should keep those prisoners in mind. They must never be forgotten. HLH

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Federal's total seizure of miners union and newspaper alarms national labor leaders

WASHINGTON -- For decades this nation's crucial coal fields were stalked by the inevitable tragedy of a Greed drama. These are mines this country will depend on for its very life by 1980.

Coal diggers were totally dominated by the late leonine John L. Lewis who was deified though he was murderous, dictatorial, disdainful, collaborated with sympathizers of the Third Reich, brutally associated with agents of the Nazis and Communists, was called a "comrade of comrades" by labor chief George Meany and ran his $100 million United Mine Workers Union (UMW) as a personal fief. He ruled with absolute contempt for democracy, audits, or the maintenance of books and records.

All this time he was worshipped by some of the men who now move eagerly on what is left of the United Mine Workers -- and there is much to take.

Yes, indeed, the murderous rot in this union of some 200,000 coal-diggers was sowed there by the giant Lewis. Yes, indeed, frequently with the aid of Presidents of the U.S. despite his taste for violence. It became an almost undredgeable swamp.

Now, though the full significance of the Federal Court order has not yet been realized. the government has taken over this independent union so completely that the unprecedented action is chilling the entire labor movement.

The takeover is complete. There are, for example, two, soon to be three, Federal representatives including a certified public accountant in the UMW national headquarters here. At least 67 other Dept. of Labor representatives are in miners' local and regional offices -- soon to be followed by 300, then 600, Federal agents when the union nominates candidates for the government-run Dec. 1 to 8 elections.

Until the union election, these representatives will have absolute power. They can examine any book, any note written by any employe or officer.

Such men and women employed by the union must put in writing, for submission to the Federal representatives, an accounting of every minute of their time: to whom they speak, what they say, where they go, work they do, and how they do it.

This must be approved by the U.S. Labor Dept. representatives working directly for the Department's Labor-Management and Welfare Pension office run by director Leonard Lury, himself once in the labor milieu, under the supervision of Assistant Secretary of Labor William Usery taking orders from Labor Secretary Jim Hodgson.

If the government's representatives object to anything from the publication of the union's small tabloid to a telephone conversation, they can punish the employe, prohibit similar activities in the future or discharge the employe. No new employes may be hired without permission. Even handling of grievances and contract observance is supervised by the government.

The United Mine Workers Journal's editors have no freedom. Not only must they insert what is given them -- with equal space for both the union's current administration and the oppositions' (Miners for Democracy) -- but the copy submitted to them for publication in each half of the newspaper cannot be edited. The printer will "put out" the paper.

Furthermore, the anti-administration forces, now called the Intervenor)the Miners for Democracy), have been given the unprecedented right to have their own observers observe the Federal representatives.

At top there is their official monitor Meyer Berstein who is leaving the foreign relations relations department of the United Steelworkers (AFL—CIO) to handle the rebel duties right inside the union. He will have 57 counterparts throughout the mine fields. If he doesn't approve of what he sees he can complain to the Intervenor's attorney, Joseph Rauh, Jr., prominent liberal Washington lawyer who helped found the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) Rauh then goes to the judge (William Bryant) who then can order the government's representative to heed Berstein.

All this will cost the government over $1.5 million -- necessitating the Labor Dept's request to Congress for a supplemental appropriation. None of this has any direct tie to the ghastly murder of three Yablonskis. It will all lead to a new election, the results of which will be announced on Jan. 15, 1973.

This has no relationship to UMW President W.A. "Tony" Boyle's draconimc five-year prison sentence and $179,200 fine -- imposed for approving campaign contributions in 1968 to Hubert Humphrey, Reps, Wayne Hays, John Saylor, and former Congressmen Arnold Olsen and Wayne Morse. Never has any union president been hit as hard for political contributions.

And as Meyer Berstein says: "This is just a forecast of what will hit him." That's what many national labor leaders believe. No other American union ever has been so completely taken over, no other national labor leader has been so sternly treated. The full significance is clear -- the era of the old giants is dead. In John's Lewis's case his successor is being punished as no one ever has been before. The miners' case could mark the beginning of Federal court rule of unions. An amazing precedent has been set for all labor.

Nixon Announces U.S. Will Return To Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has announced the United States will return to Vietnam peace talks in Paris on July 13 because he sees "a chance for more serious discussions."

Holding his first television - radio news conference in 13 months, Nixon gave no clue Thursday night to the nature of presumed secret dickering that is bringing both sides back to the conference table.

In fact, he coupled his veiled optimism with a statement that "we have been disappointed in the past with regard to these discussions" — suggesting history might repeat itself.

The Paris talks have been in the deepfreeze since early May.

During a 43- minute session in the floodlit East Room of the White House, the seemingly relaxed chief executive also:

— Repeated high praise for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew but declared he won't make known his choice of a 1972 campaign running mate until the Aug. 21 Republican National Convention draws nearer.

— Expressed hope the courts will uphold the death penalty as a deterrent to such federal crimes as kidnaping and skyjacking.

— Endordwed, in perhaps stronger language than before, legislation to tighten controls over cheap and readily available handguns.

"I have always felt there should be a federal law for the control of handguns . . . The problem there is to write the law . . . in such a way that it is precise and deals with that kind of handgun which ought to be controlled."

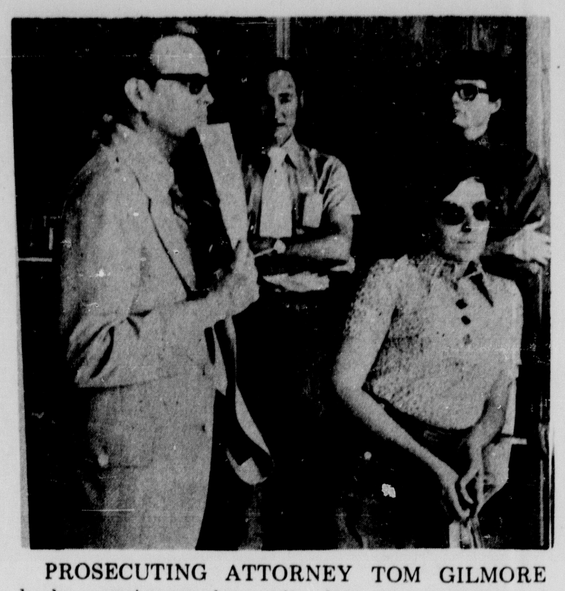

— Cautioned Congress against any inflationary or inadequately financed increase in Social Security benefits.

— Saw the economy making great strides, while cautioning that he plans to do more to reduce unemployment.

Vietnam was the dominant topic.

Nixon said the United States "will return to the negotiating table . . . on the assumption that the North Vietnamese are prepared to negotiate in a serious and constructive way. We will be prepared to negotiate in that way."

He reaffirmed a May 8 offer to withdraw All Americans within four months in return for a supervised Indochina cease-fire and the return of Ameridan prisoners plus an accounting for those missing.

No Action Against 'Clockwork Orange'

"Clockwork Orange" opened Thursday night without the threat of legal action being taken against Malco Theatre for showing the film.

Tom Gilmore, prosecuting attorney, said Thursday, he will not seek to stop the movie from being shown in Sikeston. Gilmore made his decision after he and 31 people screened the movie Thursday afternoon.

The audience made up from a cross section of the community, answered a questionaire on the film after viewing it Thursday. The general feeling expressed by the group was that the film was not objectionable.

The group said there was violence in the film, but that the portrayal of sex was not upsetting. They added that a person over 18 could view the movie without harm.

Gilmore had threatened to take action against the film after receiving a number of telephone calls from people concerned about the movie coming to Sikeston. The worries were apparently aroused by advertisments indicating the film deals heavily in sex and sadism.

Fire Damages Car At Dexter

DEXTER — Minor fire damage was reported Thursday to the back seat of a car owned by Charles Hobgood of 507 North Mulberry.

Firemen answered the call at 4:35 p.m. Cause of the blaze is not known. he automobile was parked in the carport of the home.

Clarkton Postmaster Retires

Shelton assumed charge of the Clarkton post office July 9, 1936, receiving his commission under the administration of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and James A. Farley, postmaster general.

His 36-years as postmaster places him in the top list of years of service as postmaster in Dunklin County. He began his career earning $125 in 1936, compared to the $1,100 per month he was now earning.

Seek Car Believed Used In Kidnaping

POPLAR BLUFF — Missouri State Highway Patrol Troop E headquarters early today requested The Daily Standard to cooperate with authorities in two states by publishing the following information:

Local police in Natchitoches, Miss., are trying to locate a red and white 1962 Chevrolet sedan with Texas license number GWC910, believed to have been involved in the kidnaping at 6:40 p.m. Thursday of a police officer.

When last heard from, officer, Max Bordelone, requested aid by radio, saying he was checking the vehicle on a street in Natchitoches. But when other patrolmen reached the location, only the victim's patrol car and hat were there.

Should anyone have information concerning the vehicle, the highway patrol should be contacted by phoning 785-5757.

Sheriff's authorities in Peoria County, Ill., advise that a rock festival scheduled for July 1 - 4 in Peoria has been cancelled by a court injunction and asks that persons having purchased tickets not descend on the area.

Scouts Plan Flag Raising

ILLMO — The Illmo Boy Scouts are planning a flag - raising ceremony July 4 in honor of Independence Day. The ceremony will be held at 8 a.m. at Illmo- Scott City High School.

License Fees To Increase

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's charge for a driver's license will go up $1 when it starts converting to a plastic permit card on Saturday.

The fee will be $3 for three years instead of $2.

The new cards will bear a color picture of the driver.

There will be no change in the $10 fee for a chauffeur's license.

THE PERFECT GIFT FOR BIRTHDAYS OR ANNIVERSARIES
CARROLL'S FLORIST

Ann Landers

Happiness Has To Be Earned

Dear Ann Landers: In a recent column a woman expressed a continuing state of anxiety because she did not want a certain person to attend her funeral. You suggested that she state in her will the desire for a private funeral (by invitation only) with a list of guests she wanted present plus strict instructions that only those invited would be admitted.

I take issue with your advice because in the overwhelming majority of instances the will is not read until after the person is buried.

The best known case in point is Franklin D. Roosevelt. President Roosevelt left explicit instructions in a four-page penciled document addressed to his eldest son, James: "If I should die while in office, I want a service of the utmost simplicity held in the East Room of the White House. There should be no lying instate, no gun carriage and no hearse. The casket should be of utmost simplicity in dark wood. The body should not be lined with brick, cement or stones."

No one in the Roosevelt family knew this document existed. It was found in President Roosevelt's private safe a few days after he was buried.

So, Ann Landers, please instruct your readers to write their special requests for burial (if they have any) and make two copies. One copy should be given to the next of kin or to the person who would logically be in charge of the funeral. The other copy should be given to a lawyer, with instructions that upon death, the next of kin be contacted and plans worked out with the funeral director.

If you use my letter please do not use my name. --Anonymity Requested.

Dear A.R.: Thank you for your contribution to this column. I appreciate your counsel and research.

Dear Ann Landers: For my first wedding anniversary I am considering asking my husband to throw away his collection of ex-girlfriends' pictures.

When Ted and I were first married the pictures were in the top desk drawer. I kept running into them whenever I wanted writing paper or a pencil. I asked Ted if he would please put them somewhere else. He stuffed them in a shoebox and put them on the closet shelf.

I am beginning to wonder why we have to have them around at all. It occurred to me that maybe I ought to throw them away myself -- with the rest of the junk. Then I got the bright idea that I'd ask Ted to burn them -- as an anniversary present. I'll do as you say. --Washington Posted

Dear Wash: Think of something else. Those pictures are not yours -- they are Ted's and he should be free to keep them if he wishes. Any pressure from you might be interpreted as jealousy -- and this is no message to convey on your first anniversary.

Dear Ann Landers: Everyone wants to be "happy" but how few people know what happiness is. I found a fine definition in an old handbook of The Memphis Parents League. Print it, please.

"We must help our children understand that happiness is a by-product of other factors --- self-respect, service to others, work well done. Happiness is a state of heart. It is intangible. No amount ofmoney can assure us of it. It is natural for parents to want their children to be happy. But we cannot give it to them. They must earn it." -- Tennessee Reader

Dear T.R.: Excellent. Thank you for sharing.

Is an upcoming wedding driving you bananas? Ann Landers' comprehensive booklet, "The Bride's Guide," gives you the facts from the initial announcement to the last bill and who should pay it. To receive your copy, write to AnnLanders, in are of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Hodges-McDowell

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cross of Sikeston announce the engagement of their daughter Janis Hodges, to Michael Gene McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene McDowell of Sikeston.

Miss Hodges will be a senior at Sikeston High School in the fall. McDowell graduated from Sikeston High School in 1969 and is employed at Barkett's Big Star.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

Sandra Kellett

Kellett-Ottinger

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kellett, 30 Green Meadows, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, to Terry Ottinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ottinger, 403 Shady Lane.

Both are 1971 graduates of Sikeston High School. Miss Kellett attended William Woods College at Fulton one year and Ottinger attended the University of Mississippi at Oxford one year. Both will attend Southeast Missouri State College in the fall.

Plans are being made for an Aug. 19 wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Paul Reed

Reed-Garrison

Miss Rachel Ann Garrison and Lesley Paul Reed were united in marriage May 27 at 8 p.m. in Christ Gospel Church in Sikeston. The Rev. Jerry Bachelder performed the candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clara Garrison of Vanduser and the late Charles Chester Garrison. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reed of Matthews.

The bride's gown was of white bridal satin with a fitted bodice with self-covered buttons to the high neckline and on the long sleeves. The long train was of Chantilly lace. A petal crown held the three tier illusion net veil.

Her bouquet was of white and pink carnations with long streamers and lavender ribbons.

Sybil Garrison of Vanduser, the gride's sister was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Newman of Vanduser, Betty Hays of Morley, Pat Young of Vanduser and Ginger Walls of Matthews.

Rodger Wolfe of Jeffersonville, Ind., was best man. Groomsmen were Stanley Curtis of Matthews, Terry Walls of Matthews and David Yarbrough of Matthews. Bill Alcorn of Sikeston and Wolfe were ushers. Eric Wolfe of Jeffersonville, Ind., was ringbearer.

The mother of the bride wore a two- piece dress of black and white crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a blue ensemble and a corsage of white carnations.

The reception was held in Sikeston Activity Center. In charge of the reception was the bride's sisters, Mrs. Bill Alcorn and Mrs. Vernell Hill, both of Sikeston, Mrs. Laverne Goins of Austin, Tex., and an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth Martin of Vanduser.

The bride graduated from Scott County Central High School in May and is employed by Cee Jays Restaurant at Matthews. The groom graduated from Matthews High School in 1968 and is employed by Union 76 Truck Stop at Matthews.

The couple left for an undisclosed honeymoon and is now living in Matthews.

Out- of- town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Garrison and Lea from St. Louis; Mrs. Jimmie Goins and David of Austin, Tex.; and Mrs. Jane Goins of Poplar Bluff.

Meeting

SUNDAY

The Scott County Singing Convention will be held at 2 p.m. at Salcedo Baptist Church, featuring the Ambassadors from Cape Girardeau and the Tolbert Sisters from Sikeston.

Marston Teacher Retires

MARSTON — Mrs. Verna Latimer, retiring after 41 years of public school teaching, was guest of honor at a "This Is Your Night" program given by the Civic Improvement Club in recognition of faithful and dedicated service to the youth and community.

Mrs. Latimer's career included 34 years at Marston school, five years at Conran and two years at Advance.

Bill Mahar of St. Louis, a former pupil, presented her with a plaque in replica of those she had given to her students in recognition of their achievements.

She received many congratulatory letters and gifts from former students and friends.

Among out- of- town guests attending were her sister, Mrs. Mable Dennison of Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Latimer, Rock Island, Ill.; Mrs. Barbara Sherwood and Mrs. Thelma King, New Madrid and Mrs. Myrtle Hawkins, Wardell.

Mrs. Louise Sole and Miss Jeannette Haubold were in charge of the program.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Rosa Fausett, Mrs. Sole and Miss Haubold.

Local News

The valuation report shows 251,485 acres of farmland on Scott County's books; there are 19,504 parcels of city property reported.

The largest single category of personal property is reflected in the assessment on trucks, cars, and other motor vehicles with 14,739 assessments for a total value of $5,459,040.

The county court said the increase in personal property assessment comes from a $440,000 valuation placed on the Tanksley Trucking Company, located near the Cape Municipal Airport in north Scott County.

Tanksley was the center of a controversial assessment a year ago in Mississippi County when the county court attempted to place a $867,000 valuation on the company's owned and leased tractor - trailer trucks. Attorneys for Tanksley argued that after the late 1971 move to Scott County the company could not be assessed after the tax books were closed in this county.

Tanksley's company paid tax on a $150,000 assessment in 1971, however, the Scott County board of equalization has revalued the company to the $440,000 assessment for 1972.

The personal property lists show assessments of $245,860 on cattle, $22,305 on hogs, $400 on poultry and $680 on horses. The assessment report shows 7,936 head of cattle and 2,455 hogs owned in the county; for an average value of $30.98 per cattle and $9.09 per head for hogs.

Pranksters Lose Jail

PORTAGEVILLE — The Jaycees are seeking return of their portable chicken jail, which was removed Wednesday night as a planned prank to create interest in the city's centennial celebration.

Jaycee Jerry Pattillo said the jail, which was in front of the city hall to incarcerate men who didn't buy a chickenbutton for failure to grow beards, has now mysteriously disappeared from the pranksters.

Pattillo said all was not lost, however,as a commode with a dummy was left in lieu of the jail. A reward is being offered Pattillo said for the return of the jail, but he would not disclose the nature of it.

Queen Contest To Be Featured

RISCO -- Crowning of Miss Risco will be the feature attraction at Tuesday's Independence Day celebration.

The annual event, sponsored by the Community IMprovement Club, Kiwanis Club, fire department and Rural Independent Club, will include a barbecue picnic beginning at 11 a.m. and games and beauty contests at 7 p.m.

A Fireworks display will conclude festivities.

License ID's Start Monday

The new licenses will feature the bearer's picture and cost $3 for three years, a $1 increase. People holding the old type license must continue to use those licenses until time to renew them.

Today

JUST FOR TODAY . .

I will overcome the problem of age. I will banish from my mind the idea that I am too old - or too young for anything. I will know that age is but a mental state and treat it accordingly.

Police Seek Two Men In Robbery

Litchford told police the two men stuck their heads inside the door to his apartment behind 605 South Frisco, and told him if he didn't turn over his money they would beat him.

It would boost the average payment for an individual, now $129 a month, to $158. For a couple, the average would go from $223 to $271.

The minimum, now $70.40 a month, would be raised to $84.50. The maximum payment for an individual retiring this year, now $216.10, would go to $259.70.

The amendment would finance the increase both by boosts in the present tax base, the amount of annual earnings on which taxes are paid each by the employe and worker, and the rates.

The present base of $9,000 would go to to $10,800 in 19 73 and $12,000 starting in 1974.

The rate, now 5.2 per cent, would be raised to 5.5 per cent next year.

These changes would boost the maximum tax, for a person earning at least $10,800, to $594 next year and for a person earning $12,000 to $660 in 1974. The maximum tax this year is $468.

However, Vhurch emphasized that persons earning $9,000 or less actually would play smaller taxes in the next 25 years under his amendment than under present law.

Harassment Is Minor At Basler Co.

CHARLESTON — Only minor harassment and no new acts of vandalism have been reported at Basler Electric Company on Plant Road, David Brauns, plant manager, said today.

The plant has been idle since April as a result of striking union workers. Last week the Chamber of Commerce asked the company to reopen with new employes because of the strike's effect on the city's ececonomy and the chamber's industrial recruiting efforts.

No action on the request has been taken by the Highland, Ill. - based firm at this time.

Brauns reported telephone lines at the plant were cut last Sunday and again after repairs on Monday. Messages written in lipstick were found on doors and windows and a hole had been knocked in a front window. Reportedly office workers still on the job have received telephone calls warning them not to report to work.

Brauns said he was still receiving some phone calls. However, no personal threats have been made.

When asked if he thought the company would respond to the chamber's request, Brauns said, "That decision will have to come from the home office."

Auto Accident Injures Two

POPLAR BLUFF - Two Poplar Bluff residents were injured in a one- car accident today at 1:20 a.m. on Route T eight miles northeast of here.

David Overfield, 26, and Kathy Hodo, 21, both received neck and shoulder injuries when the vehicle in which they were riding dropped off the right side of the pavement, went out of control and skidded across the road. The vehicle then overturned twice before stopping.

They were taken to Doctors Hospital where Overfield was treated and released and Miss Hodo was admitted with more serious injuries.

THIEVES LOOSE IN THE JAIL

BALTIMORE (AP) — The city jail is losing money "because we have all these thieves working for us," says Warden Hiram L. Schoonfield.

"Fifty or sixty inmates who work for us steal faster than you can imagine." Schoonfield told the City Council, saying the use of inmate labor is false economy.

"The other day I had a shakedown in one section and I found more than 40 pounds of chicken."

Cardinals Reach .500 Mark

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals have finally moved to the .500 level in the National League, and manager Red Schoendienst sees only a long drive ahead.

"You have to get over the .500 mark before you can go anywhere," said Schoendienst following a 4-2 Cards victory Thursday night over the Chicago Cubs. "It means you've got to keep going."

The Cards, 15½ games off the pace in the NL East when June began, stayed eight games back in squaring their season's record at 33-33 with the aid of Ron Santo's error.

Santo, seven times an AllStar third baseman, threw wildly in the sixth inning to chase home the winning run and Rick Wise pitched a seven-hitter.

Wise led off the sixth with a broken-bat single off the 22year-old Hooton, whose knuckle ball curve had restricted the Cards to one hit previously.

Lou Brock, extending a hitting streak to 15 games, followed with a double across the third base bag and Ed Crosby pulled the Cards to 2-1 with a run-scoring grounder.

Ted Simmons followed with the Cards' fourth hit of the inning but would have escaped further damage had not the veteran Santo committed one of his infrequent errors.

Jose Cruz banged a Hooton delivery on a high hop to Santo, who threw hard but into the dirt to baseman Jim Hickman.

As the ball skipped off Hickman's shoulder, Torre raced home from second to snap the tie. Bernie Carbo then delivered the fifth hit of the frame to score Simmons.

The victory was the third in a row for the hard-working Wise, 8-7, who surrendered three Cubs hits and a run in the opening inning.

Afterward the 26-year-old right-hander was in trouble only when Santo tripled with two out in the sixth and rode home on former Cardinal Jose Cardenal's single.

Fisherman's Paradise Opens Sat.

PARMA — Wayne Fritz announced today the opening of Fisherman's Paradise, a well-stocked pond located three blocks north of the gin in Parma. Fisherman's Paradise will open Saturday at 6 a.m. and will remain open seven days a week, closing each evening at 10 p.m.

The pond will have no poundage fees, only a fee for adults, and children over 12. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free.

Fritz has had six years in the stock pond business in and around the St. Louis area and will improve Fisherman's Paradise from time to time.

McLain Back In Majors

ATLANTA (AP) — "Armwise, weightwise, controlwise and mindwise, I'm back in the groove," says Denny McLain.

And today McLain also is back in the Major Leagues.

"I am happy as hell. It's super," said McLain Thursday when informed that the Oakland A's of the American League, which sent the pitcher to the minors five weeks ago, had traded him to the Atlanta Braves of the National League.

"I hear they Atlanta need pitchers," he said from Birmingham. "And if that's what they need, I'll do it for them. All I want is a fair shot at the big league again."

The deal also sent Orlando Cepeda, $95,000 year first baseman for the Braves, to Oakland for an undisclosed amount of cash and the right to purchase McClain.

McLain, 1 31- game winner in 1968 for the Detroit Tigers, had early season problems at Oakland and, with a 1-2 record and a 6.05 earned run average, was sent to Birmingham of the Southern League. He had a 3-3 mark with a 6.32 ERA there.

McLain reports to the Atlanta squad tonight at Houston where the Braves are playing the Astros.

Cepda, who has played 14 seasons in the National League with San Francisco, St. Louis and Atlanta, said he was happy to be going to Oakland. "It's a challenge and you can't look back."

The 34- year- old Puerto Rico native, who won the National League's MVP award in 1967, walked out on the Braves two weeks ago and was suspended for two days. Upset because he wasn't playing, Cepeda asked to be traded or released.

Cepeda, a .298 lifetime hitter with the pros, has a .298 batting record this year with four home runs and nine runs batted in.

McLain, who owns a 128-86 major league lifetime pitching record, has had his problems since the glory days of 1968-69 when he won two Cy Young Awards. He was also the league's Most Valuable Player in 1968.

The 28- year- old right-hander filed for bankruptcy and then was suspended for one- half a season in 1970 by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for allegedly carrying a gun. With a 3-5 record in Detroit in 1970, he was traded to Washington, where he posted a 10-22 chart last year.

MU Tigers In Volunteer Cage Classic

COLUMBIA — Mizzou's 1972-73 basketball schedule is unique in that the Tigers' opening game date with Ohio U. coincides with the football team's finale against Kansas -- and both will be played in Columbia.

Significantly, too, Coach Norm Stewart's team will be ushering in a new era of Tiger basketball -- playing at home in the new 14,000- seat Hearnes multipurpose building.

Missouri's 26- game slate includes an appearance in the Volunteer Classic at Knoxville, along with host Tennessee, Syracuse and Holy Cross.

Of the Bengals' non-conference foes, Ohio U. won the Mid- American conference title last year and a N.C.A.A. bid. S.M.U. was the Southwest conference king -- and Syracuse, like Mizzou, was a National Invitation Tournament team. Ohio State was runnerup in the Big Ten race.

The Tigers' 1972-73 schedule:

November

December

1 — U. of California — Davis home; 6 — Purdue home; 9 — Ohio State away; 15-16 volunteer Classic at Knoxville; 19 — U. of South Alabama home; 27-30 Big Eight tournament at Kansas City.

January

8 — Southern Methodist away; 13 — Kansas State away; 15 — Colorado home; 20 — Kansas home; 27 — Nebraska away; 30 — Oklahoma State away.

February

5 — Oklahoma away; 10 — Iowa State home; 12 — Oklahoma home; 17 — Colorado away; 20 — Kansas State home; 27 — Kansaw away.

March

3 — Oklahoma State home; 5 — Iowa State away; 10 — Nebraska home.

Gideon Battles For Championship

BERNIE — Neelyville and Gideon battle for the championship of the Little League All- Star baseball tournament at 8:30 tonight after outstanding pitching performances led to semifinal wins Thursday.

Defending tournament champion, Puxico, and Parma go after the third place prize at 7 tonight. Puxico lost 4-1 in the opener to Neelyville and Gideon rallied from a 4-0 deficit to turn back Parma, 5-4.

Wins Second

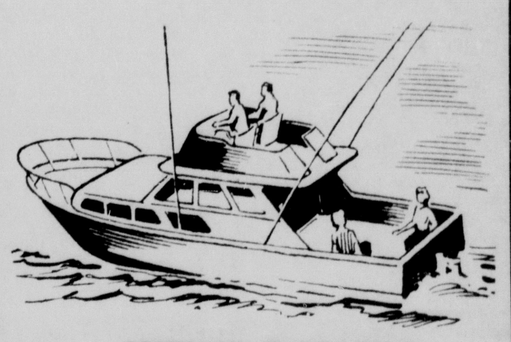

Greg Buys was the only member of the three Southeast Missouri athletes playing minor league baseball to make any headway last week, according to a report by Player Periscope of Novato, Calif.

The Kennett native recorded his second win of the season in nine games, working nine innings, allowing eight hits, five walks and nine strikeouts while dropping his earned run average mark to 5.90 for the Kinston, S. C. Yanks.

Vanduser's Gary Owens continued his slump at the plate for the Ft. Lauderdale Yanks by going 0 for 3 as his batting mark tumbled to .158. He's got six hits in 38 at bats.

Mark Littell, who made his debut a week ago against major league batters, worked four innings in his latest outing, giving up five hits, five walks and fanning eight. He boasts a 3.38 ERA for the Waterloo, Iowa, Royals.

First National Bank Drops From Unbeaten Ranks

First National Bank, the American League's West Division front runner, became the last of 28 Sikeston Little Leagues teams to drop from the ranks of the undefeated Thursday night as Flower Basket surprised First National with a three-run last inning rally to sweep by the Bankers, 12-10.

First National Bank, 6-1 for the season, still leads in the Western division by one full game over Police, who picked up one full game on the leaders with a 20-13 win over Bridger in the nightcap.

Elsewhere in the city leagues, the National League's top two teams picked up victories in play at Puckett Field and remained unchanged in so far as standings are concerned in the eight-team league. Jaycees remained one full game ahead of trailing Kiwanis with a 6-2 win over A and B Leasing. Kiwanis kept the standings race unchanged with a 12-0 shutout win over Security National Bank in the National League nightcap.

In Musial League Play, Nunnelee rallied for six runs in the top of the last inning for a 9-8 win over Brothers Club in the first game. Brothers Club remained the only winless team in the standings today with its eighth loss. Bank of Sikeston downed Hart's Bread, 11-2 in the second game.

AMERICAN LEAGUE — Flower Basket posted its 12-10 triumph over First National Bank on a last inning effort powered by six walks, three hits and one hit batsman. The Flower Basket squad, now 2-5 for the season, went into the last frame trailing the Bankers, 10-3.

After putting the first two batters on base in the bottom of the last inning, Flower Basket's pitcher, Overby, shut down the First National machine on three consecutive strikeouts to post the win.

Overby picked up 13 strikeouts in the contest and was tagged for seven hits while picking up the six-inning victory. Teammate Baldwin paced Flower Basket's four-hit attack with two hits and scored two runs.

First National's Bryant went three for four and scored three Bank runs to pace the losers' lineup. Ritter went the distance for First National and suffered the loss.

In the nightcap, Police kept close on the tail of division - leading First National Bank team with a 20-13 win over Bridger. Eleven runs in the bottom of the fourth inning gave the Police force a come-from-behind victory. Police had gone into the final inning trailing the Bridger squad, 13-5, after the Plumbers sent seven runners home in the last inning. Ziegler and winning pitcher T. Tanner paced the Police lineup with three hits each. D. Holifield and Doster each connected three safties to anchor the 10-hit Bridger lineup.

NATIONAL LEAGUE — Jaycees remained one game ahead of trailing Kiwanis with a 6-2 triumph over A and B Leasing in the first contest at Puckett Field. A six-run third inning boosted Jaycees into the lead for good after A and B had grabbed an early 1-0 lead in the first inning.

Seven of Jaycees' nine total hits came in the decisive third frame. Burgess paced Jaycees at the plate with a single and a double as winning pitcher McCord checked the A and B lineup on three hits. A and B sent one run home in the first and fourth frames for the two-run total. Watson was tagged with the defeat.

In the nightcap, Kiwanis pitchers held Security National to three hits as winning pitcher McCauley and reliever Eckles teamed to fan nine of 17 Bank batters.

Security National catcher, Hockersmith, ruined the no-hit contest with a single in the third inning. Butler and McCauley paced the nine hit Kiwanis lineup with two hits each. K. Young was handed the loss.

MUSIAL LEAGUE — It looked as if Brother's Club was on its way to a season's first victory in the Musial League nightcap, but Nunnelee spoiled the thoughts with a six-run last inning rally and a 9-8 come-from- behind victory. The Brothers led by much as four runs in the contest and wen into the final inning trailing, 9-7.

With one out in the bottom of the last inning, Brothers Club's Abernathy belted a home run with the bases empty to cut the lead to one run. Two walks put the tying and winning runs on base with two outs as Nunnelee reliever, Smith, picked up his second strikeout of the inning.

With two out, Brothers Club runner Greer was tagged out in game ending play at the plate.

In the first game, Bank of Sikeston maintained its second place position in the Western Division standings with an 11-2 win over Hart's Bread. Three runs in the first, third, and fourth innings paved the way for the Bank win.

Bank's winning pitcher, Williams, paced the winners with a three-hit performance at the plate and scored three runs. Teammate Standridge added to the Bank of Sikeston lineup with a two-hit night. Hart's Bread's Smith and Hammock each had two hits in the losers' seven-hit attack. Warfield was tagged with the loss.

Last Inning Heroics Salvage D&B Win

For the second game in a row, the Junior Babe Ruth front- running Davis and Byrd Insurance team has avoided an upset and come away unhurt in this week's action at V.F.W. Stadium. Thursday night the 11-1 Davis and Byrd squadffound itself trailing Home Materials 5-0 in the bottom of the last inning but collected four hits and two errors to score six six runs and post aa narrow 6-5 victory.

Only last Tuesday did the D and B squad have to go into extra innings to post a 4-2 win over Bank of Sikeston in another close call for the league leaders.

In the night's first game, Turner Dairy withstood a last- inning, three- run Hart's Bread rally to pick up an 8-7 win.

In the Turner Dairy-Hart's Bread bout, the Dairymen sent in one runner in each of the first three innings to post a 3-0 lead. Hart's managed to cut the lead with two runs in the third inning.

A five- run fifth inning for Turner Dairy, backed by six walks, an error and one single put the Dairymen far ahead in the contest. Hart's managed to come back in the bottom of the fifth frame with two runs on an error, a double from Standridge, and two additional hits.

Hart's Bread went into the bottom of the last inning, trailing 8-4 and got things going with a pinch- hit single, two walks and an error. A fielder's choice and a grounder to the Turner first baseman ended the contest.

Hockersmith was the winning hurler for Turner, while Thompson was tagged with the Harts' Bread loss.

In Davis and Bird's come-from- behind effort in the nightcap, four of the team's six hits came in the six - run last inning. An error got the D and B rally moving as four more hits and another costly error paved the way for the six runs.

Davis and Byrd's Shell, Deal, Stokes and Alberts each collected last- inning safeties while salvaging the 6-5 win for pitcher Keller.

Echols went the distance for Home Materials and was backed by a two- hit night at the plate by teammate Wake.

Church News

Chaffee Baptists Call New Pastor

CHAFFEE — First Baptist Church has called Dr. Paul E. Weber of Fenton to serve as pastor, according to Bill Bradshaw, chairman of the pulpit committee.

The Rev. Dr. Weber was born in a pastor's home. His father, the late Paul Weber, Sr., was for 21 years pastor of First Baptist Church of Jefferson City, and for 16 years superintendent of missions for St. Louis Baptist Association.

The Rev. Dr. Weber is a graduate of Southwest Baptist College, William Jewell College and Central Baptist Theological Seminary (Th. M. and Th.D.) Southwest Baptist College conferred upon him the life service award in 1959; William Jewell College conferred upon him a citation for achievement in 1959 and the doctorate of divinity in 1967.

He is currently pastor of First Baptist Church of Fenton in St. Louis County where he has served for five years. While at Fenton he has received 350 new members, of whom he has baptized 135. The church has built a new auditorium, made several property improvements, purchased a parsonage and reduced its debt by $250,000.

Prior to his St. Louis pastorate the Rev. Dr. Weber was for nine years pastor of the Hamlin Baptist Church of Springfield, Missouri. Previously he served churches in Moberly, Salem and Boonville.

Chaffee Baptist's new pastor is active in Baptist affairs. He served two years as president of Missouri Baptist Convention and has served on several boards and committees of Southern Baptist Convention, Missouri Baptist Convention and local associations. He is currently on the Southern Baptist historical commission and the Missouri Baptist executive board.

Dr. Paul Weber

His wife is active in the life of the local church and has served in Baptist women's associational and state work. A college graduate, she enjoys involvement in community affairs. The Webers have four daughters.

The Rev. Dr. Weber is doctrinally conservative and his preaching biblically oriented. He has been a frequent revival and guest speaker in Southeast Missouri.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Weber will move to Chaffee on July 18 and they will begin their ministry here Sunday, July 23.

Revival Begins Sunday

BELL CITY — Revival services will be held Sunday through July 9 at First Southern Baptist Church, according to the Rev. Tom Fortner, pastor.

The Rev. Grover Kagy of Dexter, new superintendent of missions for Cane Creek-Stoddard Baptist Association, will be evangelist for services beginning at 7:30 each night.

The church, a mission of First Baptist Church of Advance, recently had dedication services for its new building.

Synods To Merge, Area Pair Elevated

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — The synods of Missouri Presbyterian Church, U.S., and United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and the synod of Kansas United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., joined into one June 22 at a conference here.

The name of the new church group, which will have headquarters in Kansas City, is Synod of Mid-America.

The action, prescribed by the general assemblies of both sects, affects about 176,000 members in Missouri and Kansas, said the Rev. John Moad, executive director of the Synod of Missouri Presbyterian Foundation.

"The United Presbyterian General Assembly stated that the merger must be working by Jan. 1, 1973," he said. "Other synods have been joining nation- wide in connection with this effort toward more efficiency."

He reported the Missouri and Kansas synods will be closing their offices in Jefferson City and Topeka.

The Rev. Robert J. Rodisch of Jefferson City was elected synod executive and the Rev. Mark Andrew of Topeka, associate executive.

Dr. Rodisch, executive of Missouri Presbyterian synods since 1970, is president of Missouri Council of Churches.

Dr. Andrews synod executive of Kansas, is a member of the Kansas Council of Churches' board of directors.

The Rev. Paul Curry of Caruthersville was elected Missouri synod moderator of Presbyterian Church, U.S., to serve until Jan. 3, 1973, and the Rev. Norma Schlobum of Lutesville, the first woman so named, was elected Missouri synod moderator for United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., for the same length of time until the merger takes effect.

Preus Blasts Probation Rule

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dr. Jacob A. O. Preus, president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, has blasted the American Association of Theological Schools for placing Concordia Seminary on two years probation.

Dr. Preus said the association got into matters that were none of its business.

The president has been involved in a running dispute about how professors at the seminary should interpret scriptures. He said the main question in the case is whether certain professors have gone beyond the limits of Lutheran doctrine.

Dr. Preus said it appears to him the accreditation agency wants to see the church make "far reaching changes which will affect the total internal structure of our church."

Hemba Young of Sikeston served as delegate from Hunter Memorial First Presbyterian church to the Missouri synod of Presbyterian Church, U.S.

Discovering a Meaningful Faith

Modern man with his tremendous concern about the accumulation of earthly possessions faces a problem when he is asked about his faith in God.

"Have faith in faith," said Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. In his publication "Guideposts" Dr. Peale records many examples of persons who have placed their lives in the hands of God. Dr. Peale calls his publication "a practical guide to successful living."

Man has always had questions he wanted answered. And he has always had to answer some of these on the basis of faith. Our young people have many questions about the ambiguities they see in the adult world.

Why? Why?

Frequently we hear this question from persons who encounter sickness, experience unusual hardships, or suffer losses in their personal or business lives.

Would a good God permit one of His followers to experience such injustice? Too often we read about a wicked person getting off scot-free.

Job presents an excellent person to study when one wants to review faith. The 23rd chapter is a dialog between Job and God. It also reflects a four-sided argument between Job and his three friends.

The Book of Job was written by an unknown author somewhere between 600-400 B.C. Yet his words are as appropriate today as they were then.

Job is a bitter man, resentful against God. Job offers many arguments to defend his position yet he complains that God doesn't answer him. "If I go forward, He is not there; if backward, I cannot find Him."

Job's problem was that he believed there must be an intelligible order in the universe and he had trouble finding the key. He was argumentative here yet as he sought answers Job became closer to God.

Another of Job's problems was his great concern for himself. He was a righteous man so why must he suffer? He understood his problems but he did not understand God.

Again we see a problem in failure to really communicate. Faith remains a challenge for all of us. As Frank Lloyd Wright once said, "The thing always happens that you really believe in and the belief in a thing makes it happen. And I think nothing will happen until you completely and deeply believe in it."

Centuries ago faith was described as "the substance things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen." Faith serves as medicine to give us mental and emotional security.

Dwight L. Moody described three kinds of faith:

(1) Struggling Faith, which is like a man in deep water.

(2) Clinging Faith, which is like a man hanging on to the side of a boat.

(3) Resting Faith, which finds a man safely within a boat, and able, moreover to reach out a hand to help someone else.

Job offers us an example of a person growing in faith. He becomes penitent and admits "I have uttered what I did not understand, things too wonderful for men."

Finally Job sees God as a person, not as an object to debate. His eyes have been opened. He turned from doubter to a believer, reconciled to his new faith.

Job needed to broaden and deepen his concept of God. When he did this his faith surfaced to the top. He found that life was worth living after all.

A man in a great hospital once said, "It makes all the difference in the world what kind of environment a person's got inside him." And William James said, "Without belief there can be no successful outcome."

The Bible tells us that "For whoever would draw near to God must believe that He exists and that He rewards those who seek Him."

DAVID POLING, D.D.
Nixon, McGovern Key-In Religion

By REV. DAVID POLING

In the sprawling, growing suburban congregation, Roman Catholics are most free-wheeling about the abortion issue, aid to education, and the war in Vietnam. Too many political observers ignore the ecumencial flow between Protestants and Catholics.

The favorite topic more often is how do we achieve good education for the people of this land—not how can we gain a special advantage for our parochial system.

In an earlier column we noted that Sen. George McGovern had a grass roots following, that he was close to the mood and aspiration of millions of people, that his Methodist parsonage background gave him valuable insight into the yearnings of the blue-collar voter, black or white, Protestant or Catholic.

He knows the costs of a college education and supermarket prices. He hears what is discussed at a church family night supper and Sunday morning services.

McGovern's candidacy will have a powerful, built-in following from the mainline denominations, not dissimilar from the glow that pushed Woodrow Wilson into office. McGovern has working credentials with religious leaders across America.

On the other hand, countless churchmen, national leaders, denominational officials feel insulted by President Nixon. For the past two years, six leading churchmen, representing national denominations, have requested hearings at the White House. They have been put down, put off by a President who does not want to hear their Vietnam burden.

It will be easy for them to support McGovern, whom they have known as George and with whom they have discussed issues for a decade.

In a recent campaign speech, McGovern used words like "redemption," "reconciliation," "stewardship." They may seem corny in Washington and strange in New York, but in Ohio and Illinois and California, they ring a bell. And there are a lot of Methodist and Baptist bells in America.

Not for 12 years have we had a sharp injection of religious overtone to a national election.

Back in 1960, Richard Nixon and John F. Kennedy weaved in and out of the Catholic/Protestant questions of aid to parochial schools, Vatican relations, and all the old drama of hate, suspicion, and worry that accompanies such debates.

Young Kennedy squeaked through—many feel with the support and silent blessing of a significant number of Protestant clergy votes—and demonstrated that a Catholic in the White House did not put a bishop in the treasury.

The aid to parochial schools (there are many Protestant schools in the same grouping) issue is rising again, with President Nixon making substantial promises to those who seek such assistance.

According to a recent article in the Wall Street Journal, the Nixon strategy is to capture the blue-collar, urban Roman Catholics, clustered heavily in the Northeast, with strong stands on anti-busing, anti-abortion, money for church schools (through a federal income tax deduction) and much appeal to old-fashioned patriotism.

Some experts feel that this strategy will succeed, especially if George McGovern is Mr. Nixon's opponent. A mixture of white southern Protestants and northern Roman Catholics could spell victory for Mr. Nixon if he carefully tunes his campaign to the needs and worries of such a bloc.

Yet every political formula has its flaw, especially when one adds different doses of religious seasoning. One simply cannot ignore the disenchantment of hundreds of thousands of Roman Catholics over parochial education. In many areas (not all in urban Philadelphia or Los Angeles) the parochial system is in sharp decline because parents do not wish this "life-style" education for their kids.

Church Bell Ends 40-Year Silence

EAST PRAIRIE — Last Sunday morning marked the end of 40 years of silence as the old Christian Church bell was rung. The bell, which was rung regularly in the old church building from 1889 until 1932, has been in storage for 40 years.

This bell, in the early days of the church, was the church signal of the community for many years. The town had only a few houses, and the population of East Prairie was only about 100 when the bell was first run.

As was the custom on Sunday mornings, the bell would peal forth for several minutes about one hour before services, reminding citizens of their duties on Sunday morning, and again the bell would ring twenty minutes before the beginning of the service. The 'first bell' meant to get ready, and the 'second bell' to start to church service.

The community listened for the old bell and it was used as a church signal for all services to be held at the church. Transportation was slow, and people came to church in farm wagons and buggies drawn by horses, or by walking.

When funerals were held, the bell would ring slowly, or toll, as the procession came to the church, so that citizens could stop their labors and attend the funeral service in honor of the dead.

When the old frame building was sold in 1932, the bell was placed in storage for future use. It has taken a long time, but thanks to the efforts of Mrs. Earline Watson and her son, Dr. Albert Weaver, the bell is now in the Christian Church bell tower and will be rung each Lord's Day.

Missionary To Indians Named Church Leader

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The 142nd General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in its opening session last week, elected the Rev. Claude Gilbert of Oklahoma as moderator.

Gilbert, a missionary to the Choctaw Indians, was chosen on the second ballot over the Rev. C. Ray Dobbins, editor of the Cumberland Presbyterian.

Born in southeastern Oklahoma, Gilbert spent most of his life living with the Choctaw tribes and is considered by the Indians as one of them. Since he returned to Oklahoma to head the church's mission to the Choctaws in 1965, his work, by his own admission, has been more political than clerical, assisting the Indians in dealing with the federal government. He and his wife, Lenora, besides two grown sons of their own, have adopted 9-year-old twin Choctaw girls.

An unexpected highlight of Gilbert's nomination was a speech by Abrom Measintubby, an elder in the Choctaw Presbytery, who came to nominate his "friend" for the highest position of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Trembling and with tears in his eyes, the old Choctaw spoke in his native tongue, his words later translated by the Rev. Randy Jacob.

The assembly, which met in Kansas City through June 24, voted later in the week on proposed statements on the war, conscientious objectors and school busing.

The opening session was attended by 140 delegates and some 300 members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Women.

ABANDONED LANGUAGES

NEW YORK (AP) — An Irish scholar is studying Yiddish at Yeshiva University to determine whether there is any relation between the fate of the Irish language and the trend in usage of Yiddish in the United States.

"There has been a clearly discernible trend in America for the Yiddish-English bilingual (person) to abandon Yiddish in favor of English," says Alan J. Hudson, the Irish scholar.

Explo '72 Marked By Orderliness

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "This is out of order. Try Jesus Instead," read the handscrawled sign covering the bawdy peep show machine in the state fairground's penny arcade.

Under the shadow of the Cotton Bowl here some 75,000 young people gathered earlier this month to pledge their lives to Christ at EXPLO '72, the International Student Congress on Evangelism, with Dr. Billy Graham as honorary chairman.

It was a crowd orderly in its disorder — no pushing, no shoving, no shouting. Only a few were smoking. Thousands of pieces of literature were handed out, hundreds of hot dogs consumed and thousands of soft drinks downed, yet there was little litter.

The young in discussions saw the teaching of Christ as the answer to the nation's social ills.

"No man is going to help his neighbor until he learns to love his neighbor," said one participant. "When he learns to accept and love Christ, he will love his fellow man and this love will cure the social ills of the country."

Each night there was a mass gathering at the 80,000 plus Cotton Bowl seating arena. Another 5,000 to 10,000 sat on the field.

Friday night, the last night of EXPLO '72, Graham was again on hand to speak at the nightly mass rally in the Cotton Bowl, filled beyond its 80,000 seating capacity.

Before the festivities, sitting in a large camper bus, Graham said he was amazed at how few incidents occurred during the week.

The handling of logistics came off "better than anticipated," he said, although there were reports that some delegates stood in lines for several hours to get a room or catch a bus or grab a bite to eat.

"Young people don't mind a little disorganization." He smiles.

Graham said he, and the rest of the organization tried to "teach them in six days as much as we could on how to win others to Jesus Christ. And it had to be done in utter simplicity."

Graham said it is too early to evaluate the outcome but that it no doubt would have a great impact on the churches.

"It may cause some of them churches to shift their own gears," he said, once the young people return home and face their elders in church.

I-SC Group Returns From Explo '72

ILLMO — Illmo-Scott City members of the Explo '72 youth group have returned from Dallas, Tex., where they attended the national Explo '72 youth rally for witnessing and evangelism.

Those attending from Illmo Baptist Church were: Brenda Hamil, Lisa Raney, Jo Ellen Venable, David Carbaugh, Charlie Goodman, Mrs. Roger Carbaugh and Mrs. Bob Goodman. Attending from Eisleben Lutheran Church were: Linda Cook, Doug Ross, Tim Roth and the Rev. Ardle Page.

The group traveled to Dallas aboard a bus, where they joined approximately 100,000 youths from all over the nation. The rally was held in the Cotton Bowl, and was interdenominational.

'Little Man' Mood Threat To Merger

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A mood that assumes all wisdom lies with the "little man" is threatening to destroy plans to merge nine Protestant church denominations into one, the general secretary of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU) said recently.

Dr. Paul A. Crow Jr., 40, of Princeton, N. J., discussed the church union plan at the opening of a three-day meeting of the COCU executive committee.

The sessions are the first by the committee since the 3.1 million member United Presbyterian Church voted last month to withdraw from the COCU effort. The Presbyterians at one time were the major supporters of the union effort.

In an eight-page report Crow said the group "is assaulted by defenders of parochialism, ignored by the bored, damned with faint praise by the uncommitted and affirmed by those who yearn for a church that is becoming."

He said he was shocked by withdrawal of the Presbyterians.

He said the churchmen voted at a Denver meeting 396 to 224 to reconsider the withdrawal but fell short of the required margin.

Remaining in the COCU effort are the African Methodist Episcopal Church, African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, Episcopal Church, Presbyterian Church U. S. (Southern Branch), United Church of Christ and United Methodist Church.

The organization announced plans for the church unification two years ago this spring at a meeting in St. Louis.

THE BIBLE

37. Joseph Makes Himself Known to His Brothers

Joseph tricked his brothers into his keeping Benjamin by having his servant hide and then find his silver cup in Benjamin's sack of corn. All the brothers were brought before Joseph. Joseph could no longer keep his secret. Standing before his brothers weeping, he told them who he was. "And Joseph said unto his brethren, I am Joseph, doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him; for they were troubled at his presence. And Joseph said unto his brethern, come near to me, I pray you. And they came near. And he said, I am Joseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt." Genesis 45:3,4.

Joseph told his brothers not to grieve or be angry with themselves for it was God's will that it was done to preserve their lives. Pharaoh was pleased with what Joseph had done and told him to have his brothers go to Canaan and get his father and they all were to come back and live in Egypt. Joseph gave his brothers fine new clothes, money, food and wagons to carry them and sent them back to bring his father to him.

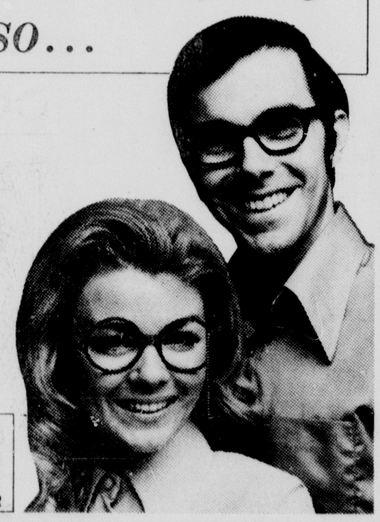

When Jacob learned that Joseph was still alive he said, ". . . It is enough; Joseph my son is yet alive: I will go and see him before I die." Genesis 45:28.

What's The Law?

Case Of Early Morning Worker

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Sam liked work so much, he could sit and look at it for hours. Deciding that it was a highly unsatisfactory way of accumulating a bankroll, he broke into his employer's office early one morning, and emptied the latter's safe. The next day, upon discovering both Sam and his money missing, Sam's employer filed a claim under a burglary policy to recover his loss.

"Sorry, Mac," he was told, "but your policy specifically excludes coverage from any loss due to a dishonest," conceded Sam's employer, "but he wasn't my employe, not in the middle of the night when my office was closed. At that hour, he was working for himself. Consequently, I'm entitled to collect under my policy.

The insurance company, however, disagreed and the matter had to be resolved in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make the insurance company pay off on Sam's early morning self-endeavor?

his is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that when an insurance company prepares an insurance policy, it must use language tht is clear to the average person. And, noted the judge, to the average person, a man is an "employe" while he is acting in his employment during the time he is being paid for services rendered. At the time of Sam's burglary, concluded the judge, he was not acting in his employment and, surely, he wasn't being paid to rob his employers's safe. (Based upon a 1958 Michigan Supreme Court Decision)

One Second Added

Longest Day Of Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today will be the longest day in your life.

Every other day since man began recording time has had 86,400 seconds. at 8 p.m. EDT, midnight Greenwich Mean Time, today the world's timekeepers will add an extra second.

The purpose is to correct a discrepancy in time-keeping due to tiny changes in the earth's rotation.

The changes were discovered in 1958 with the development of atomic clocks so accurate it would take 50,000 years for one of them to gain or lose a second.

Conventional clocks measure time based on the assumption that the earth takes exactly 24 hours to rotate on its axis. Atomic clocks record time by registering vibrations of atoms making up a molecule of a special gas.

These clocks have noted a tiny slowing in the earth's rotation. To compensate, the world's master clocks since 1958 have been subject to fairly frequent, very minor corrections of a thousandth of a second here and there.

But astronomers of the U. S. Naval Observatory, the nation's official timekeeper, say the necessity for such frequent changes poses potential dangers.

"Every time you correct a clock, you stand a chance of correcting it the wrong way," said Dr. R. Glenn Hall, assistant director of the Observatory's time division.

His chief, Dr. Gernot M. R. Winkler, said navigators at sea or aloft, who need accurate clocks in navagating by the stars, "must be protected from clock errors of possible fatal consquences."

So, by international scientific agreement reached more than a year ago, the world's official timekeepers today add a full second just before midnight GMT.

"Future action," said Dr. Hall, "will depend upon how the earth rotates. It could be that it will speed up again, in which case we'd subtract a second. In any case, we'll be making bigger changes, but less often than heretofore, possibly once a year.

The dissemination of radio time signals, based utlimately on astronomical time will undergo this maneuver:

When a country's official time-telling station sends out its midnight GMT time signal, it will first send six short beeps to mark the five seconds from 55 to 60. Then, it will pause for one second before beeping the long tone marking midnight.

In the United States, the National Bureau of Standards' radio station WWV at Ft. Collins, Colo., has the responsibility for providing standard time and frequency service to the nation. It keeps its clocks precisely synchronized with those at the Naval Observatory in Washington.

Danforth, Hearnes Reserve Comment

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) - Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth expressed surprise Thursday at the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court holding the death penalty is unconstitutional

He said he would wait to read the opinions of the nine judges, who split 5-4, before making any comment on the effective of the ruling in Missouri.

He said he was opposed to the death penalty --- "personally I think it is an anachronism" – but his office has followed the Missouri law in asking for and getting death sentences in several cases.

Seventeen men in he Missouri Penitentiary are now under sentence of death, one since 1965, but prison officials abolished the old "death row" type of segregation last March 14.

Since then the men sentenced to death have mingled with the rest of the population and have been handled the same as other prisoners.

William G. Miller, director of corrections, said the policy has worked well and has caused no trouble.

He declined to allow newsmen to interview the condemned men about today's decision. He said he did not want to stir things up in any way.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, who has the legal power to commute death sentences to life imprisonment, said he would not comment until he reads all of Thursday 's opinions, some of them conflicting.

17 Under Death Sentence In State

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two brothers from St. Louis and a man who set a fire that claimed 12 lives were among the 17 men under death sentence for first- degree murder in the Missouri Penitentiary.

The Supreme Court held Thursday the death penalty as it is imposed under current laws in the United States is unconstitutional, although the mass on opinions in the 5-4 decision left unclear the status of nearly 600 death row inmates across the land.

The brothers in the Missouri prison, Darryl and James Granberry, were convicted of the shooting of Officer Wilbert Downey, a University City policeman, during a service station robbery.

William Coleman was convicted of entering a Moberly tavern Feb. 16, 1969, pouring gasoline on the floor and setting it on fire. Twelve persons died.

Others under death sentence for murder:

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, June 30, the 182nd day of 1972. There are 184 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1950, President Harry S. Truman announced that he had ordered U.S. troops stationed in Japan to help the Republic of Korea repel North Korean invaders.

On this date:

In 1834, the Indian Territory was created by an Act of Congress.

In 1859, 5,000 persons watched as the French acrobat, Emile Blondin, crossed Niagara Falls on a tightrope.

In 1934, Adolf Hitler began a purge in Germany, getting rid of hundreds of political and military leaders.

In 1946, the third atomic bomb was dropped — in a U.S. test over ships anchored at Bikini Atoll in the Marshall Islands.

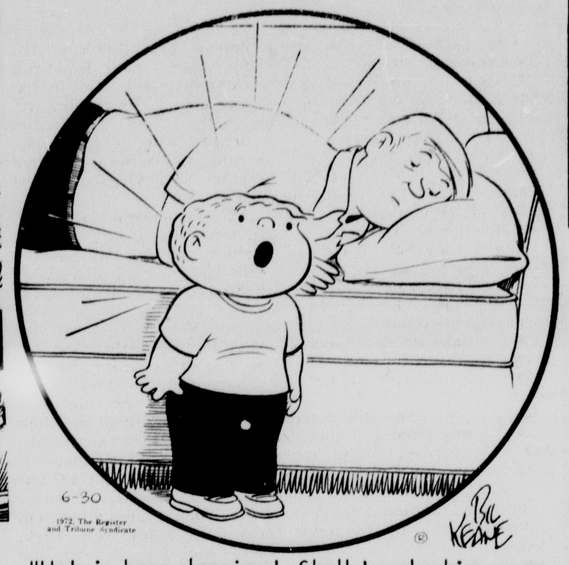

Ten years ago: In Mexico City, President John F. Kennedy and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos declared that a new era of understanding and friendship had been reached between their two countries.

Five years ago: A military presidential ticket headed by South Vietnam's Chief of State Thieu and with Premier Ky in the No. 2 spot emerged from political infighting in Saigon.

One year ago: Three Soviet cosmonauts who had been in space for more than three weeks were found dead after their spacecraft landed.

Angry McGovern Threatens To Bolt Democratic Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP) — An angry George McGovern has threatened to withhold support from the Democratic ticket if he loses the presidential nomination because of what he called "shabby back-room dealing."

McGovern coupled the threat with a stream of accusations directed at the Credentials Committee vote Thursday stripping him, at least temporarily, of more than half the 271 delegates he won in California's primary.

The committee's 72-66 vote to apportion the 271 delegates among nine candidates, rather than awarding them all to McGovern, fueled the unrest simmering in a party searching somewhat uncertainly for harmony between regulars and reformers.

That decision and another due today on a challenge to one of the pre-eminent old-liners, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, portended further acrimonious debate at the Miami Beach convention opening July 10. The full convention will vote on accepting or rejecting Credentials Committee decisions.

In his initial burst of anger, McGovern called the committee decision "the rottenest political steal I've ever seen in my political career" and blamed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, his nearest rival and chief beneficiary of the ruling, for engineering it.

"I couldn't possibly support a convention that would sustain this kind of shabby back-room dealing," he declared. "I wouldn't have any part of any convention nominee who would support this."

But he tempered the assertion later when he told a news conference in Atlantic City, N.J., that his initial outburst "doesn't reflect what I want to say about this matter."

"I don't want to make any threats," he said, and added that, "if the Democratic nominee is nominated according to the rules ... in a way I think is fair, I'll support him."

Humphrey, calling the decision "only fair," said his own chances "have markedly improved" and criticized McGovern's reaction. "Anyone who would bolt or rush off in a huff has, may I say, very little regard for the convention and its procedures," he said.

The challenge, filed by supporters of Humphrey and other candidates who ran behind McGovern in the June 6 primary, contended that the winner-take-all California law violated the spirit of party reforms.

The California vote seemed certain to solidify McGovern's committee supporters behind a challenge to Daley and 58 other uncommitted Illinois delegates he controls on grounds they were selected improperly and underrepresent women, youth and blacks. The challengers include several McGovern supporters.

The situation was further clouded by an Illinois circuit court ruling Thursday prohibiting any but the Daley delegates from taking those seats.

The immediate impact of the California vote was to trim McGovern's first-place delegate total and increase his difficulty in wooing uncommitted delegates.

A new Associated Press tally, taking into account the committee vote, put McGovern's first-ballot strength now at 1,226.9, or 282.1 votes away from the needed 1,509. McGovern's own tally dropped to 1,333.75, or 175.25 short of a majority.

In other developments:

—In Philadelphia, a hearing examiner decided that 40 per cent of Humphrey's and Muskie's Pennsylvania delegates were chosen in violation of the reform rules, a challenging group said.

—In New Orleans, state Rep. Dorothy Taylor announced that 15 of the 19 Louisiana black delegates have thrown their support to McGovern, giving him at least 24 of 44 Louisiana delegates.

—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew blanketed all the Democratic presidential candidates with criticism.

Paratroopers Land Within Four Miles Of Quang Tri

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopters leapfrogged hundreds of South Vietnamese paratroopers over their supporting armor today and landed them within four miles of Quang Tri City as Saigon's forces pressed ahead with their offensive to recapture South Vietnam's northermost province.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported that the assault zone was so heavily pounded by U.S. B52 bombers before the dawn lift that some of the helicopter pilots couldn't see through the clouds of dust and smoke. They had to land several hundred of the troops at alternate sites.

Officers said they encountered no heavy organized resistance, but the troops clashed sporadically with small groups of North Vietnamese soldiers and five enemy tanks were reported knocked out.

South Vietnamese tanks and armored personnel carriers advanced up Highway 1 behind the paratroopers, about three miles north of the My Chanh River. They found the shattered bulks of four enemy tanks which South Vietnamese marines had knocked out when Quang Tri Province fell on May 1.

Infantrymen with the armor collected a number of abandoned heavy weapons.

President Nguyen Van Thieu flew to Hue and conferred for an hour and a half with his senior commanders in the drive to retake Quang Tri, now in its third day. He was smiling as he came out of the conference.

Government military spokesmen reported more than 250 North Vietnamese killed in fighting on the Quang Tri front and southwest of Hue on Thursday. South Vietnamese casualties were 29 killed and 93 wounded, they said.

Heavy clashes were reported by paratroopers and marines who made a pair of large-scale helicopter landings on the coast east of Quang Tri City on Thursday. Spokesmen said 90 Communist troops were killed in one of the battles and 73 in another.

On the An Loc front north of Saigon, meanwhile, a South Vietnamese regimental commander once accused of killing two American military policemen was killed by an enemy rocket that made a direct hit on his bunkered command post.

Pass Poverty Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Overriding opposition from the White House, the Senate has passed a $9.6-billion antipoverty bill which sets up an independent corporation to help the poor with legal problems.

After a week of sometimes-angry debate, the Senate Thursday voted 74 to 16 to approve the measure and send it back to the House, which passed a somewhat different version last February.

A conference will attempt to iron out differences between the two versions after Congress returns July 17 from the recess for the Democratic National Convention.

The Senate measure authorizes funds for two more years for programs aimed at helping the 26 million Americans officially designated as living in poverty.

The bill authorizes funds quite a bit higher than President Nixon recommended for many programs of the antipoverty agency, the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The measure does not give Nixon the authority he sought in handling or transferring programs. And administration officials indicated they still are not satisfied with the form of the Legal Services Corporation contained in the bill.

Thus, the possibility looms that Nixon might again veto the legislation when it reaches him.

Last December, he vetoed a measure containing similar OEO provisions but also setting up a large federal child-care program. Child care is being handled in separate legislation this year.

PORTAGEVILLE municipal swimming pool staff, from left, are Mike Gunn, manager; Chris Foster and Scott Fullerton, lifeguards; and Georgia Estes and Judy Matlock, Neighborhood Youth Corps employes. The pool is open from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. daily Wednesday through Sunday. Swimming lessons are given by Foster and Fullerton from 9 p.m. to noon on Thursdays and Saturdays.

Cantrell Says Missouri Has $20 Million Surplus

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the Missouri House says the state has come up with a $20 million surplus and he knows where much of it is urgently needed.

Rep. E.J. Cantrell, D-Overland, asked Gov. Warren E. Hearnes to submit a dozen appropriations to a special session of the Legislature in September.

He has more than $12 million in requests for increased state aid to junior colleges, better salaries for highway patrolmen, a public defender system and higher payments to nursing homes for taking care of the elderly.

Cantrell also suggested an increase of "several millions" in the appropriations for Medicaid and Medicare. He said this money, and the federal matching funds it would generate, are sorely needed by the state's nursing homes. They face a crisis, he said, because of new federal regulations on their facilities and operations.

The Legislature is to meet Sept. 6 for a five-day session to re-consider bills recently vetoed by the governor. Hearnes has indicated he may expand this into a special session and ask the Legislature to bring the Blue Cross and Blue Shield medical insurance systems under state control.

Special sessions may act only on proposals submitted by a governor, and they may run as long as 60 days.

Cantrell listed $2.2 million for increased aid to junior colleges.

The largest item was $6.5 million to lift the ceiling on payments to nursing homes who care for old age assistance cases. The appropriation for the public defender system would be $1.4 million. Higher salaries for highway patrolmen would take $1 million in highway money. There is a $500,000 item for distributing surplus commodities and food stamps to the poor.

Cantrell would provide money for a St. Louis regional center for the mentally retarded, a licensing and inspection system for facilities which are for the mentally retarded, measles vaccine for school children and rasises for juvenile officers.

Today marks the end of the state's 1972 budget year. Cantrell says the final revenue collections ran about $20 million more than expenses. No figures have been provided by revenue and budget officers.

Missouri Hospitals To Share $600,000 Grant

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Six Missouri hospitals will share a $600.000 grant by the state legislature to fight kidney disease, the advisory group of the Missouri Regional Medical Programs announced today.

The largest share was awarded to the Washington University - Barnes Hospital in St. Louis with $158,000 and the smallest share of $45.000 will be received by the Deaconess Hospital in St. Louis.

St Luke's Hospital in Kansas City will receive $110,400, the Artificial Kidney and Neurology Center Research Hospital in Kansas City, $124,000, and University of Missouri Medical Center in Springfield will be awarded $55,000.

The money will be spent mainly for patients unable to afford the aid of expensive artificial kidney machines. Emphasis will be placed on training patients to use the machines in their own homes.

The kidney program was first funded by the legislature in 1969 with a grant of $100,000. Three subsequent grants were made totaling $800,000.

UMC Awarded Grants Totaling $1.8 Million

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The University of Missouri - Columbia has been awarded three grants totaling $1.8 million from the department of Health Education and Welfare to help finance the student financial aids program.

A $487,014 grant, designed to provide funds for students with a family income of less than $9,000, will be used for the Educational Opportunity Grants program. A similar grant received last year was 20 per cent higher.

The National Defense Student Loan program will receive $703,454, a cut of $150,000 from last year's grant. This program is designed to provide funds for students who have to borrow money, to be repaid after graduation, to attend school.

A third grant of $656,570, a reduction of some $100,000, will be awarded to the College Work-Study Program which allows students to earn money while attending school. Funding for this program which is expected to help 1,500 to 2,000 students in the coming year, has been reduced by $100,000.

The grants will be administered by the Student Financial Aid Services under the direction of George W. Brooks, director of Student Financial Aid.

More than 2,700 schools and colleges participate in the HEW program.

Fish Fry Tonight

The Men's Brotherhood of Tanner Street Church of God is sponsoring an all-you-can-eat for fish supper Friday at the Sikeston Armory park from 4 to 8:30 p.m.

Joe Nunnelee, who is in charge of the supper, said seating will handle 500 to 600 people at a time with an additional 250 to 300 seats in a visiting area. He said the visiting area is planned so "people will not eat and run, but stay for a while and enjoy themselves."

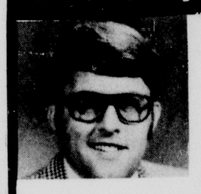

The Methodist Church of Kewanee Men's Club is loaning the frying equipment and will be on hand to assist with cooking. The "kitchen" will sport five fish cookers producing 250 pounds of cooked fish every 15 minutes.

The brotherhood also plans to cook 12,000 hush puppies, and serve 60 gallons of baked beans, 40 gallons of potato salad, and 175 pounds of slaw.

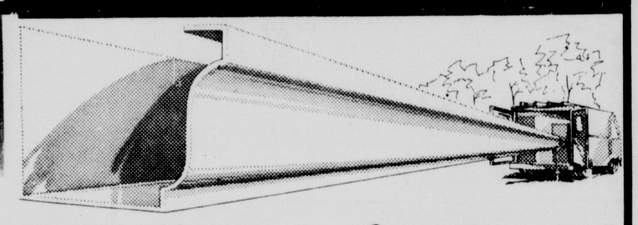

Nunnelee said if the response to the supper is favorable, the brotherhood may decide to hold the fish fry as an annual event.

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:
OF DRUGS AND JUSTICE

Hearnes Dedicates Complex

'Another Sikeston Plus'

Calling the new 140-acre recreational comples "another plus for Sikeston," Gov. Warren E. Hearnes helped dedicate the park in ground breaking ceremonies held this morning.

Hearnes said young people today have "what we didn't have" at their age, and added that he hopes more will be done. He called the recreational complex a great start in helping young people face the problems of growing up in the modern world.

Mayor Frank Ferrell told the crowd of about 150 people that the park is not only for the people of Sikeston but, also, for the residents of surrounding areas.

The park, located north of the airport, on North Ingram Road, is being built with a 199,000 grant from the Department of the Interior. The funds were channeled through the Outdoor Recreation Department in Jefferson City, a department established during the first term of the Hearnes administration. The two men most responsible for the park's establishment — Raymert Miller, former city manager, and Ira Keller, former planning and zoning board chairman — were both present.

The park will include eight baseball diamonds, a par-three golf course, tennis courts, a small fishing lake, playground areas, picnic areas and room for later expansion.

The park is being built on a 750-acre city-owned site that includes the airport, Sikeston Country Club, and the soon-to-be- closed city landfill.

Hearnes Doubts State's Delegates Will Be Seated

By RON PORTER

The Missouri delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach will probably not be seated when the convention convenes on July 10, Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said today.

Hearnes was in Sikeston for ground breaking ceremonies for the new 140-acre city recreational complex.

The governor said he is pessimistic about the delegations chances of surviving the challenge when it goes before the credentials committee. Other states, such as Georgia and California, have had their delegations successfully challenged for not being consistent with new reform rules.

The challenges, except for the one in California, are being led by forces loyal to Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota. It was McGovern who wrote the new rules.

The Missouri delegation is being challenged because it doesn't have the required quota of blacks, women, and other minority groups.

Hearnes obviously doesn't think much of the new rules. Calling them undemocratic , the Governor said the delegates were elected by Secret ballot, and there is no way to regulate the number of minority groups winning in a free election.

Hearnes said he wanted more time to study the credentials committee ruling Thursday that stripped McGovern of half of the California delegation before commenting fully on it But he did say he ruling makes the California delegation fall in line with McGovern's past stands in favor proportional representation. He said the McGovern forces have always fought for proportional representation until they get 51 per cent of the vote.

Hearnes said the full convention may reinstate McGovern's share of the California delegation, but the ruling almost guarantees that the Senator will not get the nomination on the first ballot or before the convention begins.

The governor added that he doesn't believe McGovern can carry Missouri in November.

Hearnes also criticized Sen. Earl Balckwell's petition to require that all tax increases be submitted to voters for approval. Blackwell announced today that the petition had enough signatures to be placed on the ballot.

If passed by the voters, the bill would curtail the actions of government at every level, from the legislature to thelocal library district, Hearnes said.

Every governmental unit would be unable to move without voter approval, requiring one election after another, Hearnes said.

If there are enough signatures, he said, the proposal will be on the November ballot.

8 Bound Over On Burglary Charges

BLOOMFIELD — Jimmy McCanne, 17, of Dexter; Larry Findley, 18, Dudley; Larry Hisaw, 18, of Dexter; Darlene McRoy, 18, of Bloomfield; Candy Gosnell 18, of Dexter; Ricky Warren, 17, of Dexter; and Robert Glenn Gordon, 18, of Dexter each waived preliminary hearings Thursday in Stoddard County Magistrate Court before Judge Koss Blomeyer and were bound over to Circuit Court.

Gary Leathers, 17, of Dexter also waived preliminary, except on two charges of burglary and stealing from Bess Grain Co. at Dudley, these to be heard in Magistrate Court at a later date.

The eight were arrested early this month in connection with vandalism, burlgary and stealing and attempted arson in Stoddard County over a period beginning in late 1971.

McCanne is charged with tampering with a bulldozer and farm tractor; burglary and stealing at Dudley Grain Co. and Dudley Farm Service; two counts of burglary and stealing at Bess Grain Co. at Dudley; and arson.

Findley is charged with burglary and stealing at Dudley Farm Service; one charge of burglary and stealing at Bess Grain Co., one case of burglary and stealing at Dudley Grain Co., and arson for attempting to burn down a vacant house at Dudley.

Hisaw is charged with burlgary and stealing at Dudley Farm Service; two counts of burglary and stealing at Bess Grain Co.; burglary and stealing at Dudley Grain Co.; burglary and stealing at the Dexter High School building trades house; and arson at a vacant house at Dudley.

Leathers, is charged with burglary and stealing at Dudley Farm Service; two counts of burglary and stealing at Bess Grain Co.; burglary and stealing at Gillespie Service Station at Aquilla; burglary and stealing at Dudley Grain Co.; burglary and stealing at the Dexter High School building trades house; and arson at a vacant house at Dudley.

Miss McRoy is charged with burglary and stealing at Dudley Farm Service; two counts of burglary and stealing at Bess Grain Co.; burglary and tealing at Gillespie Service Station at Aquilla; burglary and stealing at Dudley Grain Co.; and a charge of arson.

Miss Gosnell is charged with burglary and stealing at Dudley Farm Service; two counts of burglary and stealing at Bess Grain Company; burglary and stealing and Dydley Grain Company; and a charge of arson.

Biggest In History

Senate Adopts 20% Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted today a 20 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits—the biggest such boost in history.

The Senate action came in the face of a warning by President Nixon that such an increase would either strain the economy or push taxes up for millions of workers.

The increase was added as a rider to a bill extending for four months the present $450billion national debt ceiling.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, also would raise payroll taxes in 1973 and further in 1974 to pay for the boost.

In addition, it would put into effect for the first time automatic cost-of-living adjustments in Social Security.

The Church amendment would provide $8.5 billion in annual additional benefits for the 27.8 million recipients, the largest increase since the system was first set up in 1935.

The effective date for the 20 per cent would be Sept. 1 so that it first would be reflected in checks received Oct. 3, a month before the presidential national elections.

The debt limit legislation was expected to clear the Senate by mid-day and go back to the House.

There Republican leaders were threatening to block any action on he 20 per cent today although they said they might be willing to take 10 per cent cent.

The adoption of the Church amendment represented a Senate decision to lift the general Social Security increase out of the big Social Security increase out of the big Social SecurityWelfare bill which passed the House last year and which has been pending more than 12 months in the Senate Finance Committee.

Church said it appeared the bitter controversy over welfare reform in the bill might never be settled so that it was necessary for Congress to go ahead on the across-the-board Social Security hike.

The House in passing the big bill, voted for a 5 per cent Social Security increase.

But since that time Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, has said he favors 20 per cent and that this can be soundly financed. Mills helped draft the Church amendment.

The increase would be paid in all the three Social Security cash programs—retirement, family

Tax Signatures Ready, Says Blackwell Aide

He said more than enough signatures were obtained in all 10 congressional districts and the petitions will be filed with Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick next Wednesday.

Blackwell has made the antitax proposal the mainstay of hisu campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The proposed constitutional amendment would require a vote of the people on any new tax or tax increase at all levels of government — school district, city, county or state.

Anton said $60,96 signatures were obtained, with 90,000-plus needed.

He gave this breakdown for the number of petition signers in the various congressional districts:

1st District — 10,249; 2nd — 17,934; 3rd — 13,438; 4th — 16,119; 5th — 14,082; 6th — 16,803; 7th — 19,654; 8th — 20,505; 9th — 18,425; 10th — 13,749.

In a recent Springfield interview, Blackwell predicted he would win the Democratic nomination and thought he would face Republican State Auditor Christopher "Kit" Bond in the November general election.

He said his candidacy and the antitax feeling of the people "are tied so closely together as to be inseparable." He predicted hat would help him defeat Bond.

He said he started way ahead of all other Democratic candidates for governor and has stayed ahead.

Even though he becomes the nominee for governor, Blackwell said, he would not support the party's nominee for president.

County Tax Valuation Climbs $1.2 Million

BENTON — Scott County's annual report of assessed valuation to the state tax commission shows an increase of $1,268,290 for 1972 tax year.

The report, compiled by the county clerk's office, concerns real estate, personal property and locally assessed railroad and utilities. Still to be added to the tax books is the state assessed merchants' and manufacturers' valuations (M&M) and state assessed railroad and utilites.

Provided the property assessed by the state tax commission holds about the same value as last year, the county could reach a total of $65 million in assessment for 1972. In 1971 the total was slightly more than $63.2 million.

The assessment report filed last week shows a gain in the value of town real estate, with an increase of $545,800. Total farmland valuation decreased by $27,660. Personal property (cars, furniture, household goods) increased the most almost $822,600.

Locally assessed railroads and utilities decreased $72,450.

The 1972 totals for the four categories of property are as follows: Farmland real estate – $17,806,860; town real estate – $23,212,908; personal property – $8,490,280; local railroad & utilities – $435,615. Grand total – $49,945,735.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Have you ever noticed how well behaved an engaged girl is?

THE PEASANTS KNOW

These days in Vietnam, we are told by opponents of U. S. involvement in Indochina, the Americans are equivalent to the Nazis, and the South Vietnamese want to be liberated from the U. S. presence and the corrupt Saigon government.

Well, South Vietnamese peasants had the opportunity ... to demonstrate their hatred of American troops and the Saigon leadership when Communist North Vietnamese soldiers began to pour through the Demilitarized Zone to the South. If ever the weary peasants in scattered villages and relocation camps had a chance to welcome Hanoi's 'liberation army' to their war-torn land, this was it.

Instead, within hours, tens of thousands of peasants were fleeing south, to the sanctuary offered by the U. S. and Saigon. Rather than greeting the communist troops as their saviors and joining the 'anti-imperialist struggle,' the peasants tried in every way to evade the North Vietnamese.

This vivid demonstration that these frightened Asians do not desire to fall under communist control will, undoubtedly, be considered meaningless by those 'anti-war' Americans who not only want America out of Indochina, but also hope for Hanoi's victory.

Anti-war people have attempted to portray themselves as the only ones with compassion for the South Vietnamese "brutalized" by the American presence. Now, confronted with the peasants' manifest desire ... what will the war critics do? Ignore the significance of the event completely — just as they have ignored the demands of fact, reason, compassion, and sympathy throughout the war.

A TALE FOR ANY
JULY FOURTH

My father, a quite unorthodox editor, held that anniversary editorials were not read by anybody, his most cogent evidence being that he absentmindedly wrote a big, puffing salute to the Constitution, rather than the Declaration of Independence, on a July the Fourth — and not a single reader protested. He was right, but there is such a thing as writing to please one's self, and the death on July 4, 1826, of both Thomas Jefferson and John Adams is a timeless tale.

Jefferson wrote the Declaration, but Adams was at his elbow and had a weighty role in making good its adoption. Adams, Washington's vice president and himself the second President, became embittered at Jefferson, but a reconciliation occurred in their twilight, and both expired on the 50th anniversary of the Declaration.

While Washington must be accounted our greatest man on the ground that the Republic simply could not possibly have been born as it was without him, Jefferson shines in the pantheon as our most universal man. His versatility dazzles.

Adams, by contrast, was quite homely; "The John Adams Story" will never be a movie title, nor will he ever be a hot item with foraging biographers. He was squat and ugly with a large head; he was a dour Puritan, and the only charm about him was his wife, Abigail. But Adams was a brain, he was learned and tireless.

He governed well in many respects (if we forget about the Alien & Sedition Acts), but he was doomed to be a one-term President. And it was the tall, patrician Jefferson — lawyer, violinist, architect, investor, author, agronomist, diplomat, philosopher bon vivant — who defeated him.

ADAMS RETURNED to Quincy, Mass., racked by resentment of Jefferson's conquest. But by the time of Jefferson's retirement at Monticello, Adams was relenting; the bond with Jefferson would not burn out. He and Abigail had often taken care of Jefferson's motherless daughter, he and Jefferson had gone through much together as revolutionaries, and he greatly missed their philosophical taffy pulls. Too, his presidential defeat was indemnified by his son's election to succeed James Munroe.

When Jefferson's daughter died, Abigail felt bound to write Jefferson; he ardently replied, but it was still a long time before Adams thawed. At length, however, Adams ejaculated. "I love Thomas Jefferson and I always shall."

That got back to Jefferson, who rejoiced. Like Madison and Monroe, they were reconciled, and carried on a correspondence that bore on all learning, interlarded with their revolutionary rememberances. But it was growing late and Jefferson mused, "I am like an old watch, with a pinion worn out here and a wheel there, until it can go no longer."

On the Fourth of July, 1826, Adams' time had come. He murmured his last words: "Thomas Jefferson still survives!"

Not so. Jefferson had died peacefully that morning at ten minutes before ten.

They, of course, want the money because it will give them new airways and rapid transit and everything else, but us country boys, we are all going to be against it and, of course, I don't know whether we country boys are going to out vote them or not, but as far as I am concerned I don't intend to sign their petitions and if it does get on the ballot I am going to vote against it.

The author includes all varieties of news distortion, such as protest marches. "The tendency to go from peaceful demonstration to forceful demonstration, or even riot," Mr. Michelson believes, "probably owes some of its popularity as a device for attracting attention to the fact that television cameras are present on the scene ..." On Vietnam, he writes that TV prefers "dramatic pictures," usually of a small battle action, rather than favorable statistics on pacification and Vietnamization.

Mr. Michelson, like the Vice President, believes that the three networks have a virtual monopoly of national news. Both men also think that the broadcasters, although on different networks, have a similar political bias.

Mr. Agnew has said this often and been called a "McCarthyite." Now an ex-network news president writes: "There is undoubtedly truth to the charge that there is generally a homogeneity of political attitude among most of the television news executives and correspondents. A large majority would probably subscribe to what is called a 'liberal' view of government."

A thorough indictment of TV news distortion, THE ELECTRIC MIRROR not only reenforces Mr. Agnew's criticisms, but adds others. TV's show-biz approach to things like politics is shown to be uninformative and prejudicial. Yet its author can hardly be called an advocate of centralized government censorship.

What is too often overlooked by the experts in taxation whether local, state or national is that many American taxpayers will balk when taxes are excessive in their estimation.

A case-in-point is that at least 400 million packages of untaxed cigarettes are sold annually in New York State, even though the tax is supposed to be 15 cents per pack.

Tax Foundation notes that due to bootlegging of cigarettes from lower-tax states, New York State and City lost $70 million in excise and sales tax revenues last year. The State Commission estimated that one of every six cigarettes smoked in the state is untaxed.

Bootlegging (?) cigarettes may seem riduculous -- but for those who live on the Missouri border where cigarettes sell for less due to a lower tax, it is a way of life.

NEW YORK (AP)—To Ms. or not to Ms.?

That may be the question for liberated American women, but it's obvious that the feminists haven't given a thought to the rest of the world.

If they had, they'd realize that the language of liberation loses something in the translation.

Take French, for example. A married woman is called madame; an unmarried one is addressed as mademoiselle. Find a compromise for that if you will.

Ms. just doesn't seem to fit in the language of love and the land of romance.

Would you believe GIs coming home from the war and singing about Ms. from Armentiers?

Things aren't much better in other non-English-speaking countries. There's senora and senorita in Spain, frau and fraulein in Germany. The length of the list depends only on your linguistic ability.

Actually, the language barrier isn't the only problem with the catch-all title dreamed up by the feminists.

Reams have been written about the problem of pronunciation. And none of the suggested solutions seem to work.

Try addressing someone by pronouncing the two letters separately. It sounds like you're reciting the alphabet.

The generally accepted "miz," on the other hand, sounds like something out of "Gone With the Wind." Not a very liberated image.

The new mode of address also offers more chance of o ffending.

In the old days, if you didn't know whether a woman was Miss or Mrs., you could guess and you had one chance in two of being right.

Now, with three choices, the odds are against you. Two times out of three, you'll pick the title the woman doesn't want.

What Ms. doesn't do is change anything important.

It doesn't get women equal pay for equal work. It doesn't give them the right to own property or handle their own financial affairs. It doesn't give them the right to education, jobs or political office.

An no husband is likely to start helping with the housework just because his wife's letters are addressed to Ms. instead of Mrs.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department is quietly preparing to settle another multimillion-dollar antitrust case which, like the celebrated ITT case, will benefit contributors to the Republican cause.

ITT got a favorable settlement from the Justice Department after offering to help finance the Republican convention.

Now, the department is about to let five big drug firms -- Pfizer, American Cyanamid, Bristol-Meyers, Squibb and Upjohn -- off the anti-trust hook. Their corporate officers have filled the Nixon campaign chests with thousands and thousands of dollars.

The losers, as usual, will be the ordinary taxpayers who can't afford $1,000 political gifts or $100-a-plate tables at sumptuous fund raising dinners.

They stand to lose hundreds of Millions in overcharges for the lifesaving drug tetracycline. The Justice Department in 1969 charged Pfizer with "fraud" in obtaining its tetracycline patent. The other pharmaceutical firms were accused in a civil suit of unethical practices and "unlawful conspiracies" in selling the antibiotic.

If the fraud charge can be proved, the drug firms could be forced to pay back huge sums to conumers, medical groups, states and even foreign governments.

But a few months ago whispers of a settlement reached the ears of Federal Judge Miles Lord, the earnest St. Paul, Minn., jurist hearing the case. Disturbed, he took the extraordinary step of speaking personally with Richard McLaren, then the Justice Department antitrust chief, about the rumors.

STRANGE UNDERSTANDING

Judge Lord's concern turned out to be well founded. Not long afterward, Lewis Berstein, the Justice attorney in charge of the case, was ordered to inform the judge that a "general understanding" had been reached to settle.

Judge Lord listened, dumbfounded, to the Justice Department's proposal. Prosecution would be dropped, Berstein reported, in return for a $14.3 million payment by the drug firms. The money would go to the Treasury; the overcharged customers would get nothing.

Under this arrangement, not only would the patent fraud case be dropped but the drug firms would be fined only a fraction of what they would risk losing in court.

Judge Lord, hardly believing his ears, replied: "It stings me just a little bit when the rug is pulled out from under me...."

He indicated that the settlement would make it next to impossible for the victims to reclaim the millions they overpaid for tetracycline.

From competent sources, we have learned that the orders for a settlement came from then Attorney General John Mitchell, who is now President Nixon's campaign manager.

Richard Kleindienst, the new Attorney General, had nothing to do with ordering the settlement. But the compromise hasn't yet reached the state of a final, formal announcement. Final approval would now be up to Kleindienst.

A federal criminal case against Pfizer, meanwhile, is still pending after a conviction was reversed on technical grounds. Some consumer men are worried the Justice Department will try to kill these charges, too.

Footnote: Mitchell and McLaren failed to return our calls. Kliendienst told my associate, Les Whitten, that he had "no recollection" of the case.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

Spirit of '76 -- Jack LeVant, the venerable executive director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, has found an ideal spot to reflect upon the hardships of Valley Forge and the frigid Delaware crossing. He chose the sunny beaches of Jamaica, where he contemplated the rigors of 1776 in splendid luxury. The cost to the taxpayers: $121 a day. All told, LeVant has run up $8,450 in travel bills in his efforts to revive the Spirit of '76. Reached in a hospital, where he is recovering from a back problem, he grumped that our questions about travels were "threatening." Then he clammed up, citing "doctors' orders."

Cover Up -- When we told how two high Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) officials had received favors from an FAA contractor, the FAA should have started reforming. Instead FAA Associate Administratior Gustav Lundquist immediately ordered FAA personnel to stop talking directly to the press. His aim, apparently, is to paper over, not to root out FAA's corrupt ways.

Drug Story -- We recently reported that the Record Club of America, the nation's largest disc club, was marketing marijuana aids and other drug paraphernalia along with its records and tapes. The moment Vice President George Port learned of our story, he conferred with his aides by telephone at 3 a.m., re-evaluated the drug-oriented catalogue and decided the Record Club would drop it completely.

THIS IS FOR YOUR GOOD

The Citizens Lobby, a largely volunteer, unpaid organization, is circulating petitions asking for a vote in November on opening all public records to the public and ending for all time secret voting.

In Monroe County and in Paris we have seldom experienced any trouble of this sort. Our Public officials have almost always been fully cooperative.

But — there are many towns and counties where this is not so and the people who pay the taxes have no way of knowing what is being done by who, or how their money is spent.

At the state level, all sorts of secret meetings are held with no record kept of how your elected representatives vote.

It is your right to know.

It is to your advantage to know.

You can help by signing the petition now. One is on the desk in the Appeal office.

"People are surprisingly ignorant about proper leather care," says Larry Probeck, president of a leather company in Dallas (Mohawk Leather Co.). Although fine leather furniture should occasionally be treated to professional refinishing, he suggests that homemakers can keep it clean simply by using cheesecloth to wash it with a soapy lather. Rinse off the suds, wipe with a damp cloth, then a dry soft clean cloth. "It is never necessary to oil leather, he adds."

INSPECTIONS OMITTED

The nuclear arms agreement signed by the United States and Soviet Union in Moscow left this country on the short end of the stick, even on the face of the pact. The Russians whose trademark is secrecy, can and probably will go us one better in the development of operation nuclear weapons. There was no mention in news stories of the summit talks on agreements for inspection, either by the contracting parties or neutral nations. Orbiting satellites can obtain a lot of intelligence on the construction of silos for nuclear missiles but they do not guarantee that we shall know everything the Russians are doing to stockpile weapons aimed at destorying the U.S. and its allies. The nuclear shield that we once boasted is just about gone.

The strategic arms limitation treaty still must be approved by the United States Senate and we as citizens who don't want to see our country subjected to future nuclear blackmail can still get going on a campaign to influence that high legislative body. It will take a lot of letters, telephone calls and personal contacts where possible. It is to be hoped that the great majority of our Senate has studied the treacherous record of the communists and has learned that they can't be trusted. The government in Moscow has had a sorry record of pact-breaking since its inception in World War I. Now a nuclear arms limitation agreement has been signed which gives the Russians the advantage in all categories except anti-ballistic missiles and if they run true to form they will violate even the obvious advantage they have obtained in print. The U.S. Senate, however, will still have some say-so.

Another significant omission in the news stories originating from Moscow is any agreement that might have been reached on the release of our prisoners of war in Indochian. As we contact the members of the Senate, we should keep those prisoners in mind. They must never be forgotten. HLH

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Federal's total seizure of miners union and newspaper alarms national labor leaders

WASHINGTON -- For decades this nation's crucial coal fields were stalked by the inevitable tragedy of a Greed drama. These are mines this country will depend on for its very life by 1980.

Coal diggers were totally dominated by the late leonine John L. Lewis who was deified though he was murderous, dictatorial, disdainful, collaborated with sympathizers of the Third Reich, brutally associated with agents of the Nazis and Communists, was called a "comrade of comrades" by labor chief George Meany and ran his $100 million United Mine Workers Union (UMW) as a personal fief. He ruled with absolute contempt for democracy, audits, or the maintenance of books and records.

All this time he was worshipped by some of the men who now move eagerly on what is left of the United Mine Workers -- and there is much to take.

Yes, indeed, the murderous rot in this union of some 200,000 coal-diggers was sowed there by the giant Lewis. Yes, indeed, frequently with the aid of Presidents of the U.S. despite his taste for violence. It became an almost undredgeable swamp.

Now, though the full significance of the Federal Court order has not yet been realized. the government has taken over this independent union so completely that the unprecedented action is chilling the entire labor movement.

The takeover is complete. There are, for example, two, soon to be three, Federal representatives including a certified public accountant in the UMW national headquarters here. At least 67 other Dept. of Labor representatives are in miners' local and regional offices -- soon to be followed by 300, then 600, Federal agents when the union nominates candidates for the government-run Dec. 1 to 8 elections.

Until the union election, these representatives will have absolute power. They can examine any book, any note written by any employe or officer.

Such men and women employed by the union must put in writing, for submission to the Federal representatives, an accounting of every minute of their time: to whom they speak, what they say, where they go, work they do, and how they do it.

This must be approved by the U.S. Labor Dept. representatives working directly for the Department's Labor-Management and Welfare Pension office run by director Leonard Lury, himself once in the labor milieu, under the supervision of Assistant Secretary of Labor William Usery taking orders from Labor Secretary Jim Hodgson.

If the government's representatives object to anything from the publication of the union's small tabloid to a telephone conversation, they can punish the employe, prohibit similar activities in the future or discharge the employe. No new employes may be hired without permission. Even handling of grievances and contract observance is supervised by the government.

The United Mine Workers Journal's editors have no freedom. Not only must they insert what is given them -- with equal space for both the union's current administration and the oppositions' (Miners for Democracy) -- but the copy submitted to them for publication in each half of the newspaper cannot be edited. The printer will "put out" the paper.

Furthermore, the anti-administration forces, now called the Intervenor)the Miners for Democracy), have been given the unprecedented right to have their own observers observe the Federal representatives.

At top there is their official monitor Meyer Berstein who is leaving the foreign relations department of the United Steelworkers (AFL—CIO) to handle the rebel duties right inside the union. He will have 57 counterparts throughout the mine fields. If he doesn't approve of what he sees he can complain to the Intervenor's attorney, Joseph Rauh, Jr., prominent liberal Washington lawyer who helped found the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) Rauh then goes to the judge (William Bryant) who then can order the government's representative to heed Berstein.

All this will cost the government over $1.5 million -- necessitating the Labor Dept's request to Congress for a supplemental appropriation None of this has any direct tie to the ghastly murder of three Yablonskis. It will all lead to a new election, the results of which will be announced on Jan. 15, 1973.

This has no relationship to UMW President W.A. "Tony" Boyle's draconimc five-year prison sentence and $179,200 fine -- imposed for approving campaign contributions in 1968 to Hubert Humphrey Reps, Wayne Hays, John Saylor, and former Congressmen Arnold Olsen and Wayne Morse. Never has any union president been hit a hard for political contributions.

And as Meyer Berstein says "This is just a forecast of what will hit him." That's what many national labor leaders believe. No other American union ever has been so completely taken over, no other national labor leader has been so sternly treated. The full significance is clear -- the era of the old giants is dead. In John Lewis's case his successor is being punished as no one ever has been before. The miner case could mark the beginning of Federal court rule of unions. An amazing precedent has been set for all labor.

Nixon Announces U.S. Will Return To Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has announced the United States will return to Vietnam peace talks in Paris on July 13 because he sees "a chance for more serious discussions."

Holding his first television - radio news conference in 13 months, Nixon gave no clue Thursday night to the nature of presumed secret dickering that is bringing both sides back to the conference table.

In fact, he coupled his veiled optimism with a statement that "we have been disappointed in the past with regard to these discussions" — suggesting history might repeat itself.

The Paris talks have been in the deepfreeze since early May.

During a 43- minute session in the floodlit East Room of the White House, the seemingly relaxed chief executive also:

— Repeated high praise for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew but declared he won't make known his choice of a 1972 campaign running mate until the Aug. 21 Republican National Convention draws nearer.

— Expressed hope the courts will uphold the death penalty as a deterrent to such federal crimes as kidnaping and skyjacking.

— Endordwed, in perhaps stronger language than before, legislation to tighten controls over cheap and readily available handguns.

"I have always felt there should be a federal law for the control of handguns . . . The problem there is to write the law . . . in such a way that it is precise and deals with that kind of handgun which ought to be controlled."

— Cautioned Congress against any inflationary or inadequately financed increase in Social Security benefits.

— Saw the economy making great strides, while cautioning that he plans to do more to reduce unemployment.

Vietnam was the dominant topic.

Nixon said the United States "will return to the negotiating table . . . on the assumption that the North Vietnamese are prepared to negotiate in a serious and constructive way. We will be prepared to negotiate in that way."

He reaffirmed a May 8 offer to withdraw All Americans within four months in return for a supervised Indochina cease-fire and the return of Amerindan prisoners plus an accounting for those missing.

No Action Against 'Clockwork Orange'

"Clockwork Orange" opened Thursday night without the threat of legal action being taken against Malco Theatre for showing the film.

Tom Gilmore, prosecuting attorney, said Thursday, he will not seek to stop the movie from being shown in Sikeston. Gilmore made his decision after he and 31 people screened the movie Thursday afternoon.

The audience made up from a cross section of the community, answered a questionaire on the film after viewing it Thursday. The general feeling expressed by the group was that the film was not objectionable.

The group said there was violence in the film, but that the portrayal of sex was not upsetting. They added that a person over 18 could view the movie without harm.

Gilmore had threatened to take action against the film after receiving a number of telephone calls from people concerned about the movie coming to Sikeston. The worries were apparently aroused by advertisments indicating the film deals heavily in sex and sadism.

Fire Damages Car At Dexter

DEXTER — Minor fire damage was reported Thursday to the back seat of a car owned by Charles Hobgood of 507 North Mulberry.

Firemen answered the call at 4:35 p.m. Cause of the blaze is not known. he automobile was parked in the carport of the home.

Clarkton Postmaster Retires

Shelton assumed charge of the Clarkton post office July 9, 1936, receiving his commission under the administration of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and James A. Farley, postmaster general.

His 36-years as postmaster places him in the top list of years of service as postmaster in Dunklin County. He began his career earning $125 in 1936, compared to the $1,100 per month he was now earning.

Seek Car Believed Used In Kidnaping

POPLAR BLUFF — Missouri State Highway Patrol Troop E headquarters early today requested The Daily Standard to cooperate with authorities in two states by publishing the following information:

Local police in Natchitoches, Miss., are trying to locate a red and white 1962 Chevrolet sedan with Texas license number GWC910, believed to have been involved in the kidnaping at 6:40 p.m. Thursday of a police officer.

When last heard from, officer, Max Bordelone, requested aid by radio, saying he was checking the vehicle on a street in Natchitoches. But when other patrolmen reached the location, only the victim's patrol car and hat were there.

Should anyone have information concerning the vehicle, the highway patrol should be contacted by phoning 785-5757.

Sheriff's authorities in Peoria County, Ill., advise that a rock festival scheduled for July 1 - 4 in Peoria has been cancelled by a court injunction and asks that persons having purchased tickets not descend on the area.

Scouts Plan Flag Raising

ILLMO — The Illmo Boy Scouts are planning a flag - raising ceremony July 4 in honor of Independence Day. The ceremony will be held at 8 a.m. at Illmo- Scott City High School.

License Fees To Increase

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's charge for a driver's license will go up $1 when it starts converting to a plastic permit card on Saturday.

The fee will be $3 for three years instead of $2.

There will be no change in the $10 fee for a chauffeur's license.

THE PERFECT GIFT FOR BIRTHDAYS OR ANNIVERSARIES

CARROLL'S FLORIST

Ann Landers

Happiness Has To Be Earned

Dear Ann Landers: In a recent column a woman expressed a continuing state of anxiety because she did not want a certain person to attend her funeral. You suggested that she state in her will the desire for a private funeral (by invitation only) with a list of guests she wanted present plus strict instructions that only those invited would be admitted.

I take issue with your advice because in the overwhelming majority of instances the will is not read until after the person is buried.

The best known case in point is Franklin D. Roosevelt. President Roosevelt left explicit instructions in a four-page penciled document addressed to his eldest son, James: "If I should die while in office, I want a service of the utmost simplicity held in the East Room of the White House. There should be no lying instate, no gun carriage and no hearse. The casket should be of utmost simplicity in dark wood. The body should not be lined with brick, cement or stones."

No one in the Roosevelt family knew this document existed. It was found in President Roosevelt's private safe a few days after he was buried.

So, Ann Landers, please instruct your readers to write their special requests for burial (if they have any) and make two copies. One copy should be given to the next of kin or to the person who would logically be in charge of the funeral. The other copy should be given to a lawyer, with instructions that upon death, the next of kin be contacted and plans worked out with the funeral director.

If you use my letter please do not use my name. --Anonymity Requested.

Dear A.R.: Thank you for your contribution to this column. I appreciate your counsel and research.

Dear Ann Landers: For my first wedding anniversary I am considering asking my husband to throw away his collection of ex-girlfriends' pictures.

When Ted and I were first married the pictures were in the top desk drawer. I kept running into them whenever I wanted writing paper or a pencil. I asked Ted if he would please put them somewhere else. He stuffed them in a shoebox and put them on the closet shelf.

I am beginning to wonder why we have to have them around at all. It occurred to me that maybe I ought to throw them away myself -- with the rest of the junk. Then I got the bright idea that I'd ask Ted to burn them -- as an anniversary present. I'll do as you say. --Washington Posted

Dear Wash: Think of something else. Those pictures are not yours -- they are Ted's and he should be free to keep them if he wishes. Any pressure from you might be interpreted as jealousy -- and this is no message to convey on your first anniversary.

Dear Ann Landers: Everyone wants to be "happy" but how few people know what happiness is. I found a fine definition in an old handbook of The Memphis Parents League. Print it, please.

"We must help our children understand that happiness is a by-product of other factors --- self-respect, service to others, work well done. Happiness is a state of heart. It is intangible. No amount ofmoney can assure us of it. It is natural for parents to want their children to be happy. But we cannot give it to them. They must earn it." -- Tennessee Reader

Dear T.R.: Excellent. Thank you for sharing.

Is an upcoming wedding driving you bananas? Ann Landers' comprehensive booklet, "The Bride's Guide," gives you the facts from the initial announcement to the last bill and who should pay it. To receive your copy, write to AnnLanders, in are of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Hodges-McDowell

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cross of Sikeston announce the engagement of their daughter Janis Hodges, to Michael Gene McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene McDowell of Sikeston.

Miss Hodges will be a senior at Sikeston High School in the fall. McDowell graduated from Sikeston High School in 1969 and is employed at Barkett's Big Star.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

Sandra Kellett

Kellett-Ottinger

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kellett, 30 Green Meadows, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, to Terry Ottinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ottinger, 403 Shady Lane.

Both are 1971 graduates of Sikeston High School. Miss Kellett attended William Woods College at Fulton one year and Ottinger attended the University of Mississippi at Oxford one year. Both will attend Southeast Missouri State College in the fall.

Plans are being made for an Aug. 19 wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Paul Reed

Reed-Garrison

Miss Rachel Ann Garrison and Lesley Paul Reed were united in marriage May 27 at 8 p.m. in Christ Gospel Church in Sikeston. The Rev. Jerry Bachelder performed the candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clara Garrison of Vanduser and the late Charles Chester Garrison. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reed of Matthews.

The bride's gown was of white bridal satin with a fitted bodice with self-covered buttons to the high neckline and on the long sleeves. The long train was of Chantilly lace. A petal crown held the three tier illusion net veil.

Her bouquet was of white and pink carnations with long streamers and lavender ribbons.

Sybil Garrison of Vanduser, the gride's sister was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Newman of Vanduser, Betty Hays of Morley, Pat Young of Vanduser and Ginger Walls of Matthews.

Rodger Wolfe of Jeffersonville, Ind., was best man. Groomsmen were Stanley Curtis of Matthews, Terry Walls of Matthews and David Yarbrough of Matthews. Bill Alcorn of Sikeston and Wolfe were ushers. Eric Wolfe of Jeffersonville, Ind., was ringbearer.

The mother of the bride wore a two- piece dress of black and white crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a blue ensemble and a corsage of white carnations.

The reception was held in Sikeston Activity Center. In charge of the reception was the bride's sisters, Mrs. Bill Alcorn and Mrs. Vernell Hill, both of Sikeston, Mrs. Laverne Goins of Austin, Tex., and an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth Martin of Vanduser.

The bride graduated from Scott County Central High School in May and is employed by Cee Jays Restaurant at Matthews. The groom graduated from Matthews High School in 1968 and is employed by Union 76 Truck Stop at Matthews.

The couple left for an undisclosed honeymoon and is now living in Matthews.

Out- of- town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Garrison and Lea from St. Louis; Mrs. Jimmie Goins and David of Austin, Tex.; and Mrs. Jane Goins of Poplar Bluff.

Marston Teacher Retires

MARSTON — Mrs. Verna Latimer, retiring after 41 years of public school teaching, was guest of honor at a "This Is Your Night" program given by the Civic Improvement Club in recognition of faithful and dedicated service to the youth and community.

Mrs. Latimer's career included 34 years at Marston school, five years at Conran and two years at Advance.

Bill Mahar of St. Louis, a former pupil, presented her with a plaque in replica of those she had given to her students in recognition of their achievements.

She received many congratulatory letters and gifts from former students and friends.

Among out- of- town guests attending were her sister, Mrs. Mable Dennison of Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Latimer, Rock Island, Ill.; Mrs. Barbara Sherwood and Mrs. Thelma King, New Madrid and Mrs. Myrtle Hawkins, Wardell.

Mrs. Louise Sole and Miss Jeannette Haubold were in charge of the program.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Rosa Fausett, Mrs. Sole and Miss Haubold.

Local News

Youth Fair Plans Finalized

Members of the Bootheel Youth Fair steering committee and department heads met Tuesday at the Production Credit Association building here to complete plans and time schedules for the fair events beginning August 8.

The youth activities sponsored by Sikeston Rotary Club, will be held in conjunction with the annual Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo.

August 9 has been set aside for entering and judging of exhibits. Displays will be accepted from 2 p.m. until 7 p.m. at Kingsway Plaza Mall. All arts, crafts, science, vegetable and crops, foods, clothings, shop and industrial arts displays should be taken to the mall during those hours.

Tractor rodeo and livestock division dates, times and places will be announced later.

WANTED
8 HOMES THAT NEED PAINTING

SIKESTON, MO. — 8 homeowners in this general area will be given the opportunity of having the new Timbertone Woodgrain Alumnimum Siding, made with new Dupont Tedlar Finish, applied to their homes with optional decorative work at a very low cost. This amazing new product has captured the interest of homeowners throughout the United States who are fed up with constant painting and other maintenance costs.
It will last for 40 years and provides insulation summer and winter, as well as fire protection. Our new product can be used over any type of home, including frame, concrete block, stucco, etc. It comes in a choice of colors and is now going to be introduced in your area.
Your home can be a show place in your vicinity, and we will make it worth your while if we use your home. For an appointment, please write, including name, address and phone number to C & F Builders, 108 So. West or call 471-1649. Our representative will call on you without obligation.

Sloas-Rae

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — The marriage of Miss Jean Rae to Harold A. Sloas Jr. was solemnized June 24 at the Riverside Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Joe S. McClure of Winter Park Presbyterian Church.

The bride is a daughter of Alfred Rae and the late Mrs. Jean C. Rae, former residents of Sparrows Point- Dundalk, Md. Sloas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Sloas Sr. of New Madrid, Mo.

Mrs. Robert M. Coney of Sparrows Point, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Joe Blythe of Jacksonville; Mrs. Robert Broach of Rota, Spain, sister of the groom; Mrs. George Gray of Pensacola, Fla.; Miss Sherrie Rae of Overlea, Md., niece of the bride; and Missie Brewer, Jacksonville, Flower girl.

The groom chose his father for best man, and groomsmen were Joe Blythe and Lt. Kenneth Gravett, both of Jacksonville, Lt. Robert Broach, Bruce Coney, Sparrows Point, nephew of the bride, and Jeffrey Rae, Overlea, nephew of the bride.

Sloas is a 1966 graduate of University of Mississippi pharmacy school. He was a member of Phi Kappa Psi social fraternity, Phi Delta Chi pharmacy fraternity and Alpha Epsilon Pi, honorary society. He is obtaining his master of science degree at University of Florida in Gainesville.

Among out- of- town guests, in addition to the groom's parents, were Mrs. R. E. Sloas, grandmother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill French, all of New Madrid; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Broom of Vienna, Ill.; Mrs. Charles Kelley of Steele, Mo.; and Mrs. Camille S. Avison and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sloas, Steve and Lori, all of Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Harold A. Sloas, Jr.

The valuation report shows 251,485 acres of farmland on Scott County's books; there are 19,504 parcels of city property reported.

The largest single category of personal property is reflected in the assessment on trucks, cars, and other motor vehicles with 14,739 assessments for a total value of $5,459,040.

The county court said the increase in personal property assessment comes from a $440,000 valuation placed on the Tanksley Trucking Company, located near the Cape Municipal Airport in north Scott County.

Tanksley was the center of a controversial assessment a year ago in Mississippi County when the county court attempted to place a $867,000 valuation on the company's owned and leased tractor - trailer trucks. Attorneys for Tanksley argued that after the late 1971 move to Scott County the company could not be assessed after the tax books were closed in this county.

Tanksley's company paid tax on a $150,000 assessment in 1971, however, the Scott County board of equalization has revalued the company to the $440,000 assessment for 1972.

The personal property lists show assessments of $245,860 on cattle, $22,305 on hogs, $400 on poultry and $680 on horses. The assessment report shows 7,936 head of cattle and 2,455 hogs owned in the county; for an average value of $30.98 per cattle and $9.09 per head for hogs.

Pranksters Lose Jail

PORTAGEVILLE — The Jaycees are seeking return of their portable chicken jail, which was removed Wednesday night as a planned prank to create interest in the city's centennial celebration.

Jaycee Jerry Pattillo said the jail, which was in front of the city hall to incarcerate men who didn't buy a chickenbutton for failure to grow beards, has now mysteriously disappeared from the pranksters.

Pattillo said all was not lost, however,as a commode with a dummy was left in lieu of the jail. A reward is being offered Pattillo said for the return of the jail, but he would not disclose the nature of it.

Queen Contest To Be Featured

RISCO -- Crowning of Miss Risco will be the feature attraction at Tuesday's Independence Day celebration.

The annual event, sponsored by the Community IMprovement Club, Kiwanis Club, fire department and Rural Independent Club, will include a barbecue picnic beginning at 11 a.m. and games and beauty contests at 7 p.m.

The new licenses will feature the bearer's picture and cost $3 for three years, a $1 increase. People holding the old type license must continue to use those licenses until time to renew them.

Today

A MEDITATION For the NEW AGE

JUST FOR TODAY . .

I will overcome the problem of age. I will banish from my mind the idea that I am too old - or too young for anything. I will know that age is but a mental state and treat it accordingly.

Antiques

It is generally conceded that it takes about 100 years to make an antique. The U.S. government defines antiques as articles made before 1830.

Police Seek Two Men In Robbery

Litchford told police the two men stuck their heads inside the door to his apartment behind 605 South Frisco, and told him if he didn't turn over his money they would beat him.

It would boost the average payment for an individual, now $129 a month, to $158. For a couple, the average would go from $223 to $271.

The minimum, now $70.40 a month, would be raised to $84.50. The maximum payment for an individual retiring this year, now $216.10, would go to $259.70.

The amendment would finance the increase both by boosts in the present tax base, the amount of annual earnings on which taxes are paid each by the employe and worker, and the rates.

The present base of $9,000 would go to to $10,800 in 19 73 and $12,000 starting in 1974.

The rate, now 5.2 per cent, would be raised to 5.5 per cent next year.

These changes would boost the maximum tax, for a person earning at least $10,800, to $594 next year and for a person earning $12,000 to $660 in 1974. The maximum tax this year is $468.

However, Vhurch emphasized that persons earning $9,000 or less actually would play smaller taxes in the next 25 years under his amendment than under present law.

Harassment Is Minor At Basler Co.

CHARLESTON — Only minor harassment and no new acts of vandalism have been reported at Basler Electric Company on Plant Road, David Brauns, plant manager, said today.

The plant has been idle since April as a result of striking union workers. Last week the Chamber of Commerce asked the company to reopen with new employes because of the strike's effect on the city's ececonomy and the chamber's industrial recruiting efforts.

No action on the request has been taken by the Highland, Ill. - based firm at this time.

Brauns reported telephone lines at the plant were cut last Sunday and again after repairs on Monday. Messages written in lipstick were found on doors and windows and a hole had been knocked in a front window. Reportedly office workers still on the job have received telephone calls warning them not to report to work.

Brauns said he was still receiving some phone calls. However, no personal threats have been made.

When asked if he thought the company would respond to the chamber's request, Brauns said, "That decision will have to come from the home office."

Auto Accident Injures Two

POPLAR BLUFF - Two Poplar Bluff residents were injured in a one- car accident today at 1:20 a.m. on Route T eight miles northeast of here.

David Overfield, 26, and Kathy Hodo, 21, both received neck and shoulder injuries when the vehicle in which they were riding dropped off the right side of the pavement, went out of control and skidded across the road. The vehicle then overturned twice before stopping.

They were taken to Doctors Hospital where Overfield was treated and released and Miss Hodo was admitted with more serious injuries.

THIEVES LOOSE IN THE JAIL

BALTIMORE (AP) — The city jail is losing money "because we have all these thieves working for us," says Warden Hiram L. Schoonfield.

"Fifty or sixty inmates who work for us steal faster than you can imagine," Schoonfield told the City Council, saying the use of inmate labor is false economy.

Cardinals Reach .500 Mark

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals have finally moved to the .500 level in the National League, and manager Red Schoendienst sees only a long drive ahead.

"You have to get over the .500 mark before you can go anywhere," said Schoendienst following a 4-2 Cards victory Thursday night over the Chicago Cubs. "It means you've got to keep going."

The Cards, 15½ games off the pace in the NL East when June began, stayed eight games back in squaring their season's record at 33-33 with the aid of Ron Santo's error.

Santo, seven times an AllStar third baseman, threw wildly in the sixth inning to chase home the winning run and Rick Wise pitched a seven-hitter.

Wise led off the sixth with a broken-bat single off the 22year-old Hooton, whose knuckle ball curve had restricted the Cards to one hit previously.

Lou Brock, extending a hitting streak to 15 games, followed with a double across the third base bag and Ed Crosby pulled the Cards to 2-1 with a run-scoring grounder.

Ted Simmons followed with the Cards' fourth hit of the inning but would have escaped further damage had not the veteran Santo committed one of his infrequent errors.

Jose Cruz banged a Hooton delivery on a high hop to Santo, who threw hard but into the dirt to baseman Jim Hickman.

As the ball skipped off Hickman's shoulder, Torre raced home from second to snap the tie. Bernie Carbo then delivered the fifth hit of the frame to score Simmons.

The victory was the third in a row for the hard-working Wise, 8-7, who surrendered three Cubs hits and a run in the opening inning.

Fisherman's Paradise Opens Sat.

PARMA — Wayne Fritz announced today the opening of Fisherman's Paradise, a well-stocked pond located three blocks north of the gin in Parma. Fisherman's Paradise will open Saturday at 6 a.m. and will remain open seven days a week, closing each evening at 10 p.m.

The pond will have no poundage fees, only a fee for adults, and children over 12. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free.

Fritz has had six years in the stock pond business in and around the St. Louis area and will improve Fisherman's Paradise from time to time.

McLain Back In Majors

ATLANTA (AP) — "Armwise, weightwise, controlwise and mindwise, I'm back in the groove," says Denny McLain.

And today McLain also is back in the Major Leagues.

"I am happy as hell. It's super," said McLain Thursday when informed that the Oakland A's of the American League, which sent the pitcher to the minors five weeks ago, had traded him to the Atlanta Braves of the National League.

"I hear they Atlanta need pitchers," he said from Birmingham. "And if that's what they need, I'll do it for them. All I want is a fair shot at the big league again."

The deal also sent Orlando Cepeda, $95,000 year first baseman for the Braves, to Oakland for an undisclosed amount of cash and the right to purchase McClain.

McLain, 1 31- game winner in 1968 for the Detroit Tigers, had early season problems at Oakland and, with a 1-2 record and a 6.05 earned run average, was sent to Birmingham of the Southern League. He had a 3-3 mark with a 6.32 ERA there.

McLain reports to the Atlanta squad tonight at Houston where the Braves are playing the Astros.

Cepda, who has played 14 seasons in the National League with San Francisco, St. Louis and Atlanta, said he was happy to be going to Oakland. "It's a challenge and you can't look back."

The 34- year- old Puerto Rico native, who won the National League's MVP award in 1967, walked out on the Braves two weeks ago and was suspended for two days. Upset because he wasn't playing, Cepeda asked to be traded or released.

Cepeda, a .298 lifetime hitter with the pros, has a .298 batting record this year with four home runs and nine runs batted in.

McLain, who owns a 128-86 major league lifetime pitching record, has had his problems since the glory days of 1968-69 when he won two Cy Young Awards. He was also the league's Most Valuable Player in 1968.

The 28- year- old right-hander filed for bankruptcy and then was suspended for one- half a season in 1970 by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for allegedly carrying a gun. With a 3-5 record in Detroit in 1970, he was traded to Washington, where he posted a 10-22 chart last year.

MU Tigers In Volunteer Cage Classic

COLUMBIA — Mizzou's 1972-73 basketball schedule is unique in that the Tigers' opening game date with Ohio U. coincides with the football team's finale against Kansas -- and both will be played in Columbia.

Significantly, too, Coach Norm Stewart's team will be ushering in a new era of Tiger basketball -- playing at home in the new 14,000- seat Hearnes multipurpose building.

Missouri's 26- game slate includes an appearance in the Volunteer Classic at Knoxville, along with host Tennessee, Syracuse and Holy Cross.

Of the Bengals' non-conference foes, Ohio U. won the Mid- American conference title last year and a N.C.A.A. bid. S.M.U. was the Southwest conference king -- and Syracuse, like Mizzou, was a National Invitation Tournament team. Ohio State was runnerup in the Big Ten race.

The Tigers' 1972-73 schedule:

November

December

1 — U. of California — Davis home: 6 — Purdue home; 9 — Ohio State away; 15-16 volunteer Classic at Knoxville; 19 — U. of South Alabama home; 27-30 Big Eight tournament at Kansas City.

January

8 — Southern Methodist away; 13 — Kansas State away; 15 — Colorado home; 20 — Kansas home; 27 — Nebraska away; 30 — Oklahoma State away.

February

5 — Oklahoma away; 10 — Iowa State home; 12 — Oklahoma home; 17 — Colorado away; 20 — Kansas State home; 27 — Kansaw away.

March

Gideon Battles For Championship

BERNIE — Neelyville and Gideon battle for the championship of the Little League All- Star baseball tournament at 8:30 tonight after outstanding pitching performances led to semifinal wins Thursday.

Defending tournament champion, Puxico, and Parma go after the third place prize at 7 tonight. Puxico lost 4-1 in the opener to Neelyville and Gideon rallied from a 4-0 deficit to turn back Parma, 5-4.

Wins Second

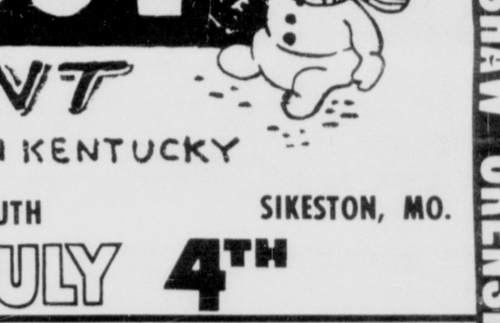

Greg Buys was the only member of the three Southeast Missouri athletes playing minor league baseball to make any headway last week, according to a report by Player Periscope of Novato, Calif.

The Kennett native recorded his second win of the season in nine games, working nine innings, allowing eight hits, five walks and nine strikeouts while dropping his earned run average mark to 5.90 for the Kinston, S. C. Yanks.

Vanduser's Gary Owens continued his slump at the plate for the Ft. Lauderdale Yanks by going 0 for 3 as his batting mark tumbled to .158. He's got six hits in 38 at bats.

Mark Littell, who made his debut a week ago against major league batters, worked four innings in his latest outing, giving up five hits, five walks and fanning eight. He boasts a 3.38 ERA for the Waterloo, Iowa, Royals.

First National Bank Drops From Unbeaten Ranks

First National Bank, the American League's West Division front runner, became the last of 28 Sikeston Little Leagues teams to drop from the ranks of the undefeated Thursday night as Flower Basket surprised First National with a last-inning rally to sweep by the Bankers, 12-10.

First National Bank, 6-1 for the season, still leads in the Western division by one full game over Police, who picked up one full game on the leaders with a 20-13 win over Bridger in the nightcap.

Elsewhere in the city leagues, the National League's top two teams picked up victories in play at Puckett Field and remained unchanged in so far as standings are concerned in the eight-team league. Jaycees remained one full game ahead of trailing Kiwanis with a 6-2 win over A and B Leasing. Kiwanis kept the standings race unchanged with a 12-0 shutout win over Security National Bank in the National League nightcap.

In Musial League Play, Nunnelee rallied for six runs in the top of the last inning for a 9-8 win over Brothers Club in the first game. Brothers Club remained the only winless team in the standings today with its eighth loss. Bank of Sikeston downed Hart's Bread, 11-2 in the second game.

AMERICAN LEAGUE — Flower Basket posted its 12-10 triumph over First National Bank on a last inning effort powered by six walks, three hits and one hit batsman. The Flower Basket squad, now 2-5 for the season, went into the last frame trailing the Bankers, 10-3.

After putting the first two batters on base in the bottom of the last inning, Flower Basket's pitcher, Overby, shut down the First National machine on three consecutive strikeouts to post the win.

Overby picked up 13 strikeouts in the contest and was tagged for seven hits while picking up the six-inning victory. Teammate Baldwin paced Flower Basket's four-hit attack with two hits and scored two runs.

First National's Bryant went three for four and scored three Bank runs to pace the losers' lineup. Ritter went the distance for First National and suffered the loss.

In the nightcap, Police kept close on the tail of division - leading First National Bank team with a 20-13 win over Bridger. Eleven runs in the bottom of the fourth inning gave the Police force a come-from-behind victory. Police had gone into the final inning trailing the Bridger squad, 13-5, after the Plumbers sent seven runners home in the last inning. Ziegler and winning pitcher T. Tanner paced the Police lineup with three hits each. D. Holifield and Doster each connected three safties to anchor the 10-hit Bridger lineup.

NATIONAL LEAGUE — Jaycees remained one game ahead of trailing Kiwanis with a 6-2 triumph over A and B Leasing in the first contest at Puckett Field. A six-run third inning boosted Jaycees into the lead for good after A and B had grabbed an early 1-0 lead in the first inning.

Seven of Jaycees' nine total hits came in the decisive third frame. Burgess paced Jaycees at the plate with a single and a double as winning pitcher McCord checked the A and B lineup on three hits. A and B sent one run home in the first and fourth frames for the two-run total. Watson was tagged with the defeat.

In the nightcap, Kiwanis pitchers held Security National to three hits as winning pitcher McCauley and reliever Eckles teamed to fan nine of 17 Bank batters.

Security National catcher, Hockersmith, ruined the no-hit contest with a single in the third inning. Butler and McCauley paced the nine hit Kiwanis lineup with two hits each. K. Young was handed the loss.

MUSIAL LEAGUE — It looked as if Brother's Club was on its way to a season's first victory in the Musial League nightcap, but Nunnelee spoiled the thoughts with a six-run last inning rally and a 9-8 come-from- behind victory. The Brothers led by much as four runs in the contest and wen into the final inning trailing, 9-7.

With one out in the bottom of the last inning, Brothers Club's Abernathy belted a home run with the bases empty to cut the lead to one run. Two walks put the tying and winning runs on base with two outs as Nunnelee reliever, Smith, picked up his second strikeout of the inning.

With two out, Brothers Club runner Greer was tagged out in game ending play at the plate.

In the first game, Bank of Sikeston maintained its second place position in the Western Division standings with an 11-2 win over Hart's Bread. Three runs in the first, third, and fourth innings paved the way for the Bank win.

Bank's winning pitcher, Williams, paced the winners with a three-hit performance at the plate and scored three runs. Teammate Standridge added to the Bank of Sikeston lineup with a two-hit night. Hart's Bread's Smith and Hammock each had two hits in the losers' seven-hit attack. Warfield was tagged with the loss.

Last Inning Heroics Salvage D&B Win

For the second game in a row, the Junior Babe Ruth front- running Davis and Byrd Insurance team has avoided an upset and come away unhurt in this week's action at V.F.W. Stadium. Thursday night the 11-1 Davis and Byrd squadffound itself trailing Home Materials 5-0 in the bottom of the last inning but collected four hits and two errors to score six six runs and post aa narrow 6-5 victory.

Only last Tuesday did the D and B squad have to go into extra innings to post a 4-2 win over Bank of Sikeston in another close call for the league leaders.

In the night's first game, Turner Dairy withstood a last- inning, three- run Hart's Bread rally to pick up an 8-7 win.

In the Turner Dairy-Hart's Bread bout, the Dairymen sent in one runner in each of the first three innings to post a 3-0 lead. Hart's managed to cut the lead with two runs in the third inning.

A five- run fifth inning for Turner Dairy, backed by six walks, an error and one single put the Dairymen far ahead in the contest. Hart's managed to come back in the bottom of the fifth frame with two runs on an error, a double from Standridge, and two additional hits.

Hart's Bread went into the bottom of the last inning, trailing 8-4 and got things going with a pinch- hit single, two walks and an error. A fielder's choice and a grounder to the Turner first baseman ended the contest.

Hockersmith was the winning hurler for Turner, while Thompson was tagged with the Harts' Bread loss.

In Davis and Bird's come-from- behind effort in the nightcap, four of the team's six hits came in the six - run last inning. An error got the D and B rally moving as four more hits and another costly error paved the way for the six runs.

Davis and Byrd's Shell, Deal, Stokes and Alberts each collected last- inning safeties while salvaging the 6-5 win for pitcher Keller.

Echols went the distance for Home Materials and was backed by a two- hit night at the plate by teammate Wake.

Church News

Chaffee Baptists Call New Pastor

CHAFFEE — First Baptist Church has called Dr. Paul E. Weber of Fenton to serve as pastor, according to Bill Bradshaw, chairman of the pulpit committee.

The Rev. Dr. Weber was born in a pastor's home. His father, the late Paul Weber, Sr., was for 21 years pastor of First Baptist Church of Jefferson City, and for 16 years superintendent of missions for St. Louis Baptist Association.

The Rev. Dr. Weber is a graduate of Southwest Baptist College, William Jewell College and Central Baptist Theological Seminary (Th. M. and Th.D.) Southwest Baptist College conferred upon him the life service award in 1959; William Jewell College conferred upon him a citation for achievement in 1959 and the doctorate of divinity in 1967.

He is currently pastor of First Baptist Church of Fenton in St. Louis County where he has served for five years. While at Fenton he has received 350 new members, of whom he has baptized 135. The church has built a new auditorium, made several property improvements, purchased a parsonage and reduced its debt by $250,000.

Prior to his St. Louis pastorate the Rev. Dr. Weber was for nine years pastor of the Hamlin Baptist Church of Springfield, Missouri. Previously he served churches in Moberly, Salem and Boonville.

Chaffee Baptist's new pastor is active in Baptist affairs. He served two years as president of Missouri Baptist Convention and has served on several boards and committees of Southern Baptist Convention, Missouri Baptist Convention and local associations. He is currently on the Southern Baptist historical commission and the Missouri Baptist executive board.

His wife is active in the life of the local church and has served in Baptist women's associational and state work. A college graduate, she enjoys involvement in community affairs. The Webers have four daughters.

The Rev. Dr. Weber is doctrinally conservative and his preaching biblically oriented. He has been a frequent revival and guest speaker in Southeast Missouri.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Weber will move to Chaffee on July 18 and they will begin their ministry here Sunday, July 23.

Revival Begins Sunday

BELL CITY — Revival services will be held Sunday through July 9 at First Southern Baptist Church, according to the Rev. Tom Fortner, pastor.

The Rev. Grover Kagy of Dexter, new superintendent of missions for Cane Creek-Stoddard Baptist Association, will be evangelist for services beginning at 7:30 each night.

The church, a mission of First Baptist Church of Advance, recently had dedication services for its new building.

Synods To Merge, Area Pair Elevated

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — The synods of Missouri Presbyterian Church, U.S., and United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and the synod of Kansas United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., joined into one June 22 at a conference here.

The name of the new church group, which will have headquarters in Kansas City, is Synod of Mid-America.

The action, prescribed by the general assemblies of both sects, affects about 176,000 members in Missouri and Kansas, said the Rev. John Moad, executive director of the Synod of Missouri Presbyterian Foundation.

"The United Presbyterian General Assembly stated that the merger must be working by Jan. 1, 1973," he said. "Other synods have been joining nation- wide in connection with this effort toward more efficiency."

He reported the Missouri and Kansas synods will be closing their offices in Jefferson City and Topeka.

The Rev. Robert J. Rodisch of Jefferson City was elected synod executive and the Rev. Mark Andrew of Topeka, associate executive.

The Rev. Paul Curry of Caruthersville was elected Missouri synod moderator of Presbyterian Church, U.S., to serve until Jan. 3, 1973, and the Rev. Norma Schlobum of Lutesville, the first woman so named, was elected Missouri synod moderator for United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., for the same length of time until the merger takes effect.

Hemba Young of Sikeston served as delegate from Hunter Memorial First Presbyterian church to the Missouri synod of Presbyterian Church, U.S.

Preus Blasts Probation Rule

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dr. Jacob A. O. Preus, president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, has blasted the American Association of Theological Schools for placing Concordia Seminary on two years probation.

Dr. Preus said the association got into matters that were none of its business.

The president has been involved in a running dispute about how professors at the seminary should interpret scriptures. He said the main question in the case is whether certain professors have gone beyond the limits of Lutheran doctrine.

Dr. Preus said it appears to him the accreditation agency wants to see the church make "far reaching changes which will affect the total internal structure of our church."

Discovering a Meaningful Faith

Modern man with his tremendous concern about the accumulation of earthly possessions faces a problem when he is asked about his faith in God.

"Have faith in faith," said Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. In his publication "Guideposts" Dr. Peale records many examples of persons who have placed their lives in the hands of God. Dr. Peale calls his publication "a practical guide to successful living."

Man has always had questions he wanted answered. And he has always had to answer some of these on the basis of faith. Our young people have many questions about the ambiguities they see in the adult world.

Why? Why?

Frequently we hear this question from persons who encounter sickness, experience unusual hardships, or suffer losses in their personal or business lives.

Would a good God permit one of His followers to experience such injustice? Too often we read about a wicked person getting off scot-free.

Job presents an excellent person to study when one wants to review faith. The 23rd chapter is a dialog between Job and God. It also reflects a four-sided argument between Job and his three friends.

The Book of Job was written by an unknown author somewhere between 600-400 B.C. Yet his words are as appropriate today as they were then.

Job is a bitter man, resentful against God. Job offers many arguments to defend his position yet he complains that God doesn't answer him. "If I go forward, He is not there; if backward, I cannot find Him."

Job's problem was that he believed there must be an intelligible order in the universe and he had trouble finding the key. He was argumentative here yet as he sought answers Job became closer to God.

Another of Job's problems was his great concern for himself. He was a righteous man so why must he suffer? He understood his problems but he did not understand God.

Again we see a problem in failure to really communicate. Faith remains a challenge for all of us. As Frank Lloyd Wright once said, "The thing always happens that you really believe in and the belief in a thing makes it happen. And I think nothing will happen until you completely and deeply believe in it."

Centuries ago faith was described as "the substance things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen." Faith serves as medicine to give us mental and emotional security.

(1) Struggling Faith, which is like a man in deep water.

(2) Clinging Faith, which is like a man hanging on to the side of a boat.

(3) Resting Faith, which finds a man safely within a boat, and able, moreover to reach out a hand to help someone else.

Job offers us an example of a person growing in faith. He becomes penitent and admits "I have uttered what I did not understand, things too wonderful for men."

Finally Job sees God as a person, not as an object to debate. His eyes have been opened. He turned from doubter to a believer, reconciled to his new faith.

Job needed to broaden and deepen his concept of God. When he did this his faith surfaced to the top. He found that life was worth living after all.

A man in a great hospital once said, "It makes all the difference in the world what kind of environment a person's got inside him." And William James said, "Without belief there can be no successful outcome."

The Bible tells us that "For whoever would draw near to God must believe that He exists and that He rewards those who seek Him."

DAVID POLING, D.D.

Nixon, McGovern Key-In Religion

By REV. DAVID POLING

In the sprawling, growing suburban congregation, Roman Catholics are most free-wheeling about the abortion issue, aid to education, and the war in Vietnam. Too many political observers ignore the ecumencial flow between Protestants and Catholics.

The favorite topic more often is how do we achieve good education for the people of this land—not how can we gain a special advantage for our parochial system.

In an earlier column we noted that Sen. George McGovern had a grass roots following, that he was close to the mood and aspiration of millions of people, that his Methodist parsonage background gave him valuable insight into the yearnings of the blue-collar voter, black or white, Protestant or Catholic.

He knows the costs of a college education and supermarket prices. He hears what is discussed at a church family night supper and Sunday morning services.

McGovern's candidacy will have a powerful, built-in following from the mainline denominations, not dissimilar from the glow that pushed Woodrow Wilson into office. McGovern has working credentials with religious leaders across America.

On the other hand, countless churchmen, national leaders, denominational officials feel insulted by President Nixon. For the past two years, six leading churchmen, representing national denominations, have requested hearings at the White House. They have been put down, put off by a President who does not want to hear their Vietnam burden.

It will be easy for them to support McGovern, whom they have known as George and with whom they have discussed issues for a decade.

In a recent campaign speech, McGovern used words like "redemption," "reconciliation," "stewardship." They may seem corny in Washington and strange in New York, but in Ohio and Illinois and California, they ring a bell. And there are a lot of Methodist and Baptist bells in America.

Not for 12 years have we had a sharp injection of religious overtone to a national election.

Back in 1960, Richard Nixon and John F. Kennedy weaved in and out of the Catholic/Protestant questions of aid to parochial schools, Vatican relations, and all the old drama of hate, suspicion, and worry that accompanies such debates.

Young Kennedy squeaked through—many feel with the support and silent blessing of a significant number of Protestant clergy votes—and demonstrated that a Catholic in the White House did not put a bishop in the treasury.

The aid to parochial schools (there are many Protestant schools in the same grouping) issue is rising again, with President Nixon making substantial promises to those who seek such assistance.

According to a recent article in the Wall Street Journal, the Nixon strategy is to capture the blue-collar, urban Roman Catholics, clustered heavily in the Northeast, with strong stands on anti-busing, anti-abortion, money for church schools (through a federal income tax deduction) and much appeal to old-fashioned patriotism.

Some experts feel that this strategy will succeed, especially if George McGovern is Mr. Nixon's opponent. A mixture of white southern Protestants and northern Roman Catholics could spell victory for Mr. Nixon if he carefully tunes his campaign to the needs and worries of such a bloc.

Yet every political formula has its flaw, especially when one adds different doses of religious seasoning. One simply cannot ignore the disenchantment of hundreds of thousands of Roman Catholics over parochial education. In many areas (not all in urban Philadelphia or Los Angeles) the parochial system is in sharp decline because parents do not wish this "life-style" education for their kids.

Church Bell Ends 40-Year Silence

EAST PRAIRIE — Last Sunday morning marked the end of 40 years of silence as the old Christian Church bell was rung. The bell, which was rung regularly in the old church building from 1889 until 1932, has been in storage for 40 years.

This bell, in the early days of the church, was the church signal of the community for many years. The town had only a few houses, and the population of East Prairie was only about 100 when the bell was first run.

As was the custom on Sunday mornings, the bell would peal forth for several minutes about one hour before services, reminding citizens of their duties on Sunday morning, and again the bell would ring twenty minutes before the beginning of the service. The 'first bell' meant to get ready, and the 'second bell' to start to church service.

The community listened for the old bell and it was used as a church signal for all services to be held at the church. Transportation was slow, and people came to church in farm wagons and buggies drawn by horses, or by walking.

When funerals were held, the bell would ring slowly, or toll, as the procession came to the church, so that citizens could stop their labors and attend the funeral service in honor of the dead.

When the old frame building was sold in 1932, the bell was placed in storage for future use. It has taken a long time, but thanks to the efforts of Mrs. Earline Watson and her son, Dr. Albert Weaver, the bell is now in the Christian Church bell tower and will be rung each Lord's Day.

Missionary To Indians Named Church Leader

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The 142nd General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in its opening session last week, elected the Rev. Claude Gilbert of Oklahoma as moderator.

Gilbert, a missionary to the Choctaw Indians, was chosen on the second ballot over the Rev. C. Ray Dobbins, editor of the Cumberland Presbyterian.

Born in southeastern Oklahoma, Gilbert spent most of his life living with the Choctaw tribes and is considered by the Indians as one of them. Since he returned to Oklahoma to head the church's mission to the Choctaws in 1965, his work, by his own admission, has been more political than clerical, assisting the Indians in dealing with the federal government. He and his wife, Lenora, besides two grown sons of their own, have adopted 9-year-old twin Choctaw girls.

An unexpected highlight of Gilbert's nomination was a speech by Abrom Measintubby, an elder in the Choctaw Presbytery, who came to nominate his "friend" for the highest position of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Trembling and with tears in his eyes, the old Choctaw spoke in his native tongue, his words later translated by the Rev. Randy Jacob.

The assembly, which met in Kansas City through June 24, voted later in the week on proposed statements on the war, conscientious objectors and school busing.

The opening session was attended by 140 delegates and some 300 members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Women.

ABANDONED LANGUAGES

NEW YORK (AP) — An Irish scholar is studying Yiddish at Yeshiva University to determine whether there is any relation between the fate of the Irish language and the trend in usage of Yiddish in the United States.

"There has been a clearly discernible trend in America for the Yiddish-English bilingual (person) to abandon Yiddish in favor of English," says Alan J. Hudson, the Irish scholar.

Explo '72 Marked By Orderliness

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "This is out of order. Try Jesus Instead," read the handscrawled sign covering the bawdy peep show machine in the state fairground's penny arcade.

Under the shadow of the Cotton Bowl here some 75,000 young people gathered earlier this month to pledge their lives to Christ at EXPLO '72, the Inter national Studen Congress on Evangelism, with Dr. Billy Graham as honorary chairman.

It was a crowd orderly in its disorder — no pushing, no shoving, no shouting. Only a few were smoking. Thousands of pieces of literature were handed out, hundreds of hot dogs consumed and thousands of soft drinks downed, yet there was little litter.

The young in discussions saw the teaching of Christ as the answer to the nation's social ills.

"No man is going to help his neighbor until he learns to love his neighbor," said one participant. "When he learns to accept and love Christ, he will love his fellow man and this love will cure the social ills of the country."

Each night there was a mass gathering at the 80,000 plus Cotton Bowl seating arena. Another 5,000 to 10,000 sat on the field.

Friday night, the last night of EXPLO '72, Graham was again on hand to speak at the nightly mass rally in the Cotton Bowl, filled beyond its 80,000 seating capacity.

Before the festivities, sitting in a large camper bus, Graham said he was amazed at how few incidents occurred during the week.

The handling of logistics came off "better than anticipated," he said, although there were reports that some delegates stood in lines for several hours to get a room or catch a bus or grab a bite to eat.

"Young people don't mind a little disorganization." He smiles.

Graham said he, and the rest of the organization tried to "teach them in six days as much as we could on how to win others to Jesus Christ. And it had to be done in utter simplicity."

Graham said it is too early to evaluate the outcome but that it no doubt would have a great impact on the churches.

"It may cause some of them churches to shift their own gears," he said, once the young people return home and face their elders in church.

I-SC Group Returns From Explo '72

ILLMO — Illmo-Scott City members of the Explo '72 youth group have returned from Dallas, Tex., where they attended the national Explo '72 youth rally for witnessing and evangelism.

Those attending from Illmo Baptist Church were: Brenda Hamil, Lisa Raney, Jo Ellen Venable, David Carbaugh, Charlie Goodman, Mrs. Roger Carbaugh and Mrs. Bob Goodman. Attending from Eisleben Lutheran Church were: Linda Cook, Doug Ross, Tim Roth and the Rev. Ardle Page.

The group traveled to Dallas aboard a bus, where they joined approximately 100,000 youths from all over the nation. The rally was held in the Cotton Bowl, and was interdenominational.

'Little Man' Mood Threat To Merger

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A mood that assumes all wisdom lies with the "little man" is threatening to destroy plans to merge nine Protestant church denominations into one, the general secretary of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU) said recently.

Dr. Paul A. Crow Jr., 40, of Princeton, N. J., discussed the church union plan at the opening of a three-day meeting of the COCU executive committee.

The sessions are the first by the committee since the 3.1 million member United Presbyterian Church voted last month to withdraw from the COCU effort. The Presbyterians at one time were the major supporters of the union effort.

In an eight-page report Crow said the group "is assaulted by defenders of parochialism, ignored by the bored, damned with faint praise by the uncommitted and affirmed by those who yearn for a church that is becoming."

He said he was shocked by withdrawal of the Presbyterians.

He said the churchmen voted at a Denver meeting 396 to 224 to reconsider the withdrawal but fell short of the required margin.

Remaining in the COCU effort are the African Methodist Episcopal Church, African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, Episcopal Church, Presbyterian Church U. S. (Southern Branch), United Church of Christ and United Methodist Church.

The organization anno unced plans for the church unification two years ago this spring at a meeting in St. Louis.

THE BIBLE

37. Joseph Makes Himself Known to His Brothers

Joseph tricked his brothers into his keeping Benjamin by having his servant hide and then find his silver cup in Benjamin's sack of corn. All the brothers were brought before Joseph. Joseph could no longer keep his secret. Standing before his brothers weeping, he told them who he was. "And Joseph said unto his brethren, I am Joseph, doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him; for they were troubled at his presence. And Joseph said unto his brethern, come near to me, I pray you. And they came near. And he said, I am Joseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt." Genesis 45:3,4.

Joseph told his brothers not to grieve or be angry with themselves for it was God's will that it was done to preserve their lives. Pharaoh was pleased with what Joseph had done and told him to have his brothers go to Canaan and get his father and they all were to come back and live in Egypt. Joseph gave his brothers fine new clothes, money, food and wagons to carry them and sent them back to bring his father to him.

When Jacob learned that Joseph was still alive he said, "... It is enough; Joseph my son is yet alive: I will go and see him before I die." Genesis 45:28.

One Second Added

Longest Day Of Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today will be the longest day in your life.

Every other day since man began recording time has had 86,400 seconds. at 8 p.m. EDT, midnight Greenwich Mean Time, today the world's timekeepers will add an extra second.

The purpose is to correct a discrepancy in time-keeping due to tiny changes in the earth's rotation.

The changes were discovered in 1958 with the development of atomic clocks so accurate it would take 50,000 years for one of them to gain or lose a second.

Conventional clocks measure time based on the assumption that the earth takes exactly 24 hours to rotate on its axis. Atomic clocks record time by registering vibrations of atoms making up a molecule of a special gas.

These clocks have noted a tiny slowing in the earth's rotation. To compensate, the world's master clocks since 1958 have been subject to fairly frequent, very minor corrections of a thousandth of a second here and there.

But astronomers of the U. S. Naval Observatory, the nation's official timekeeper, say the necessity for such frequent changes poses potential dangers.

"Every time you correct a clock, you stand a chance of correcting it the wrong way," said Dr. R. Glenn Hall, assistant director of the Observatory's time division.

His chief, Dr. Gernot M. R. Winkler, said navigators at sea or aloft, who need accurate clocks in navagating by the stars, "must be protected from clock errors of possible fatal consquences."

So, by international scientific agreement reached more than a year ago, the world's official timekeepers today add a full second just before midnight GMT.

"Future action," said Dr. Hall, "will depend upon how the earth rotates. It could be that it will speed up again, in which case we'd subtract a second. In any case, we'll be making bigger changes, but less often than heretofore, possibly once a year.

The dissemination of radio time signals, based utlimately on astronomical time will undergo this maneuver:

When a country's official time-telling station sends out its midnight GMT time signal, it will first send six short beeps to mark the five seconds from 55 to 60. Then, it will pause for one second before beeping the long tone marking midnight.

In the United States, the National Bureau of Standards' radio station WWV at Ft. Collins, Colo., has the responsibility for providing standard time and frequency service to the nation. It keeps its clocks precisely synchronized with those at the Naval Observatory in Washington.

Danforth, Hearnes Reserve Comment

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) - Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth expressed surprise Thursday at the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court holding the death penalty is unconstitutional

He said he would wait to read the opinions of the nine judges, who split 5-4, before making any comment on the effective of the ruling in Missouri.

He said he was opposed to the death penalty --- "personally I think it is an anachronism" - but his office has followed the Missouri law in asking for and getting death sentences in several cases.

Seventeen men in he Missouri Penitentiary are now under sentence of death, one since 1965, but prison officials abolished the old "death row" type of segregation last March 14.

Since then the men sentenced to death have mingled with the rest of the population and have been handled the same as other prisoners.

William G. Miller, director of corrections, said the policy has worked well and has caused no trouble.

He declined to allow newsmen to interview the condemned men about today's decision. He said he did not want to stir things up in any way.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, who has the legal power to commute death sentences to life imprisonment, said he would not comment until he reads all of Thursday 's opinions, some of them conflicting.

17 Under Death Sentence In State

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two brothers from St. Louis and a man who set a fire that claimed 12 lives were among the 17 men under death sentence for first- degree murder in the Missouri Penitentiary.

The Supreme Court held Thursday the death penalty as it is imposed under current laws in the United States is unconstitutional, although the mass on opinions in the 5-4 decision left unclear the status of nearly 600 death row inmates across the land.

The brothers in the Missouri prison, Darryl and James Granberry, were convicted of the shooting of Officer Wilbert Downey, a University City policeman, during a service station robbery.

William Coleman was convicted of entering a Moberly tavern Feb. 16, 1969, pouring gasoline on the floor and setting it on fire. Twelve persons died.

Others under death sentence for murder:

What's The Law?

Case Of Early Morning Worker

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Sam liked work so much, he could sit and look at it for hours. Deciding that it was a highly unsatisfactory way of accumulating a bankroll, he broke into his employer's office early one morning, and emptied the latter's safe. The next day, upon discovering both Sam and his money missing, Sam's employer filed a claim under a burglary policy to recover his loss.

"Sorry, Mac," he was told, "but your policy specifically excludes coverage from any loss due to a dishonest," conceded Sam's employer, "but he wasn't my employe, not in the middle of the night when my office was closed. At that hour, he was working for himself. Consequently, I'm entitled to collect under my policy.

The insurance company, however, disagreed and the matter had to be resolved in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make the insurance company pay off on Sam's early morning self-endeavor?

his is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that when an insurance company prepares an insurance policy, it must use language tht is clear to the average person. And, noted the judge, to the average person, a man is an "employe" while he is acting in his employment during the time he is being paid for services rendered. At the time of Sam's burglary, concluded the judge, he was not acting in his employment and, surely, he wasn't being paid to rob his employers's safe. Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1950, President Harry S. Truman announced that he had ordered U.S. troops stationed in Japan to help the Republic of Korea repel North Korean invaders.

On this date:

In 1834, the Indian Territory was created by an Act of Congress.

In 1859, 5,000 persons watched as the French acrobat, Emile Blondin, crossed Niagara Falls on a tightrope.

In 1934, Adolf Hitler began a purge in Germany, getting rid of hundreds of political and military leaders.

In 1946, the third atomic bomb was dropped — in a U.S. test over ships anchored at Bikini Atoll in the Marshall Islands.

Ten years ago: In Mexico City, President John F. Kennedy and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos declared that a new era of understanding and friendship had been reached between their two countries.

Five years ago: A military presidential ticket headed by South Vietnam's Chief of State Thieu and with Premier Ky in the No. 2 spot emerged from political infighting in Saigon.

One year ago: Three Soviet cosmonauts who had been in space for more than three weeks were found dead after their spacecraft landed.

Angry McGovern Threatens To Bolt Democratic Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP) — An angry George McGovern has threatened to withhold support from the Democratic ticket if he loses the presidential nomination because of what he called "shabby back-room dealing."

McGovern coupled the threat with a stream of accusations directed at the Credentials Committee vote Thursday stripping him, at least temporarily, of more than half the 271 delegates he won in California's primary.

The committee's 72-66 vote to apportion the 271 delegates among nine candidates, rather than awarding them all to McGovern, fueled the unrest simmering in a party searching somewhat uncertainly for harmony between regulars and reformers.

That decision and another due today on a challenge to one of the pre-eminent old-liners, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, portended further acrimonious debate at the Miami Beach convention opening July 10. The full convention will vote on accepting or rejecting Credentials Committee decisions.

In his initial burst of anger, McGovern called the committee decision "the rottenest political steal I've ever seen in my political career" and blamed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, his nearest rival and chief beneficiary of the ruling, for engineering it.

"I couldn't possibly support a convention that would sustain this kind of shabby back-room dealing," he declared. "I wouldn't have any part of any convention nominee who would support this."

But he tempered the assertion later when he told a news conference in Atlantic City, N.J., that his initial outburst "doesn't reflect what I want to say about this matter."

"I don't want to make any threats," he said, and added that, "if the Democratic nominee is nominated according to the rules ... in a way I think is fair, I'll support him."

Humphrey, calling the decision "only fair," said his own chances "have markedly improved" and criticized McGovern's reaction. "Anyone who would bolt or rush off in a huff has, may I say, very little regard for the convention and its procedures," he said.

The challenge, filed by supporters of Humphrey and other candidates who ran behind McGovern in the June 6 primary, contended that the winner-take-all California law violated the spirit of party reforms.

The California vote seemed certain to solidify McGovern's committee supporters behind a challenge to Daley and 58 other uncommitted Illinois delegates he controls on grounds they were selected improperly and underrepresent women, youth and blacks. The challengers include several McGovern supporters.

The situation was further clouded by an Illinois circuit court ruling Thursday prohibiting any but the Daley delegates from taking those seats.

The immediate impact of the California vote was to trim McGovern's first-place delegate total and increase his difficulty in wooing uncommitted delegates.

A new Associated Press tally, taking into account the committee vote, put McGovern's first-ballot strength now at 1,226.9, or 282.1 votes away from the needed 1,509. McGovern's own tally dropped to 1,333.75, or 175.25 short of a majority.

In other developments:

—In Philadelphia, a hearing examiner decided that 40 per cent of Humphrey's and Muskie's Pennsylvania delegates were chosen in violation of the reform rules, a challenging group said.

—In New Orleans, state Rep. Dorothy Taylor announced that 15 of the 19 Louisiana black delegates have thrown their support to McGovern, giving him at least 24 of 44 Louisiana delegates.

UMC Awarded Grants Totaling $1.8 Million

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The University of Missouri - Columbia has been awarded three grants totaling $1.8 million from the department of Health Education and Welfare to help finance the student financial aids program.

A $487,014 grant, designed to provide funds for students with a family income of less than $9,000, will be used for the Educational Opportunity Grants program. A similar grant received last year was 20 per cent higher.

The National Defense Student Loan program will receive $703,454, a cut of $150,000 from last year's grant. This program is designed to provide funds for students who have to borrow monev, to be repaid after graduation, to attend school.

A third grant of $656,570, a reduction of some $100,000, will be awarded to the College Work-Study Program which allows students to earn money while attending school. Funding for this program which is expected to help 1,500 to 2,000 students in the coming year, has been reduced by $100,000.

The grants will be administered by the Student Financial Aid Services under the direction of George W. Brooks, director of Student Financial Aid.

More than 2,700 schools and colleges participate in the HEW program.

Missouri Hospitals To Share $600,000 Grant

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Six Missouri hospitals will share a $600.000 grant by the state legislature to fight kidney disease, the advisory group of the Missouri Regional Medical Programs announced today.

The largest share was awarded to the Washington University - Barnes Hospital in St. Louis with $158,000 and the smallest share of $45.000 will be received by the Deaconess Hospital in St. Louis.

St Luke's Hospital in Kansas City will receive $110,400, the Artificial Kidney and Neurology Center Research Hospital in Kansas City, $124,000, and University of Missouri Medical Center in Springfield will be awarded $55,000.

The money will be spent mainly for patients unable to afford the aid of expensive artificial kidney machines. Emphasis will be placed on training patients to use the machines in their own homes.

The kidney program was first funded by the legislature in 1969 with a grant of $100,000. Three subsequent grants were made totaling $800,000.

Fish Fry Tonight

The Men's Brotherhood of Tanner Street Church of God is sponsoring an all-you-can-eat for fish supper Friday at the Sikeston Armory park from 4 to 8:30 p.m.

Joe Nunnelee, who is in charge of the supper, said seating will handle 500 to 600 people at a time with an additional 250 to 300 seats in a visiting area. He said the visiting area is planned so "people will not eat and run, but stay for a while and enjoy themselves."

The Methodist Church of Kewanee Men's Club is loaning the frying equipment and will be on hand to assist with cooking. The "kitchen" will sport five fish cookers producing 250 pounds of cooked fish every 15 minutes.

The brotherhood also plans to cook 12,000 hush puppies, and serve 60 gallons of baked beans, 40 gallons of potato salad, and 175 pounds of slaw.

Nunnelee said if the response to the supper is favorable, the brotherhood may decide to hold the fish fry as an annual event.

Paratroopers Land Within Four Miles Of Quang Tri

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopters leapfrogged hundreds of South Vietnamese paratroopers over their supporting armor today and landed them within four miles of Quang Tri City as Saigon's forces pressed ahead with their offensive to recapture South Vietnam's northermost province.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported that the assault zone was so heavily pounded by U.S. B52 bombers before the dawn lift that some of the helicopter pilots couldn't see through the clouds of dust and smoke. They had to land several hundred of the troops at alternate sites.

Officers said they encountered no heavy organized resistance, but the troops clashed sporadically with small groups of North Vietnamese soldiers and five enemy tanks were reported knocked out.

South Vietnamese tanks and armored personnel carriers advanced up Highway 1 behind the paratroopers, about three miles north of the My Chanh River. They found the shattered bulks of four enemy tanks which South Vietnamese marines had knocked out when Quang Tri Province fell on May 1.

Infantrymen with the armor collected a number of abandoned heavy weapons.

President Nguyen Van Thieu flew to Hue and conferred for an hour and a half with his senior commanders in the drive to retake Quang Tri, now in its third day. He was smiling as he came out of the conference.

Government military spokesmen reported more than 250 North Vietnamese killed in fighting on the Quang Tri front and southwest of Hue on Thursday. South Vietnamese casualties were 29 killed and 93 wounded, they said.

Heavy clashes were reported by paratroopers and marines who made a pair of large-scale helicopter landings on the coast east of Quang Tri City on Thursday. Spokesmen said 90 Communist troops were killed in one of the battles and 73 in another.

On the An Loc front north of Saigon, meanwhile, a South Vietnamese regimental commander once accused of killing two American military policemen was killed by an enemy rocket that made a direct hit on his bunkered command post.

Pass Poverty Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Overriding opposition from the White House, the Senate has passed a $9.6-billion antipoverty bill which sets up an independent corporation to help the poor with legal problems.

After a week of sometimes-angry debate, the Senate Thursday voted 74 to 16 to approve the measure and send it back to the House, which passed a somewhat different version last February.

The Senate measure authorizes funds for two more years for programs aimed at helping the 26 million Americans officially designated as living in poverty.

The bill authorizes funds quite a bit higher than President Nixon recommended for many programs of the antipoverty agency, the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The measure does not give Nixon the authority he sought in handling or transferring programs. And administration officials indicated they still are not satisfied with the form of the Legal Services Corporation contained in the bill.

Thus, the possibility looms that Nixon might again veto the legislation when it reaches him.

Last December, he vetoed a measure containing similar OEO provisions but also setting up a large federal child-care program. Child care is being handled in separate legislation this year.

Cantrell Says Missouri Has $20 Million Surplus

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the Missouri House says the state has come up with a $20 million surplus and he knows where much of it is urgently needed.

Rep. E.J. Cantrell, D-Overland, asked Gov. Warren E. Hearnes to submit a dozen appropriations to a special session of the Legislature in September.

He has more than $12 million in requests for increased state aid to junior colleges, better salaries for highway patrolmen, a public defender system and higher payments to nursing homes for taking care of the elderly.

Cantrell also suggested an increase of "several millions" in the appropriations for Medicaid and Medicare. He said this money, and the federal matching funds it would generate, are sorely needed by the state's nursing homes. They face a crisis, he said, because of new federal regulations on their facilities and operations.

The Legislature is to meet Sept. 6 for a five-day session to re-consider bills recently vetoed by the governor. Hearnes has indicated he may expand this into a special session and ask the Legislature to bring the Blue Cross and Blue Shield medical insurance systems under state control.

Special sessions may act only on proposals submitted by a governor, and they may run as long as 60 days.

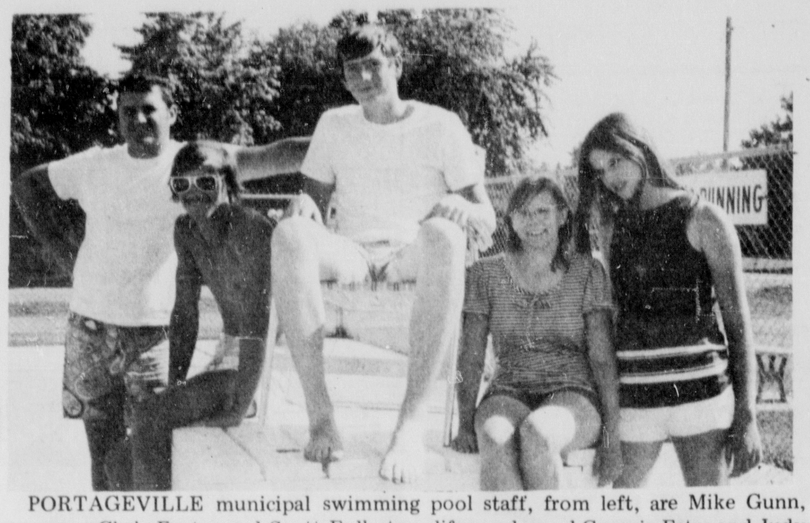

Cantrell listed $2.2 million for increased aid to junior colleges.

The largest item was $6.5 million to lift the ceiling on payments to nursing homes who care for old age assistance cases. The appropriation for the public defender system would be $1.4 million. Higher salaries for highway patrolmen would take $1 million in highway money. There is a $500,000 item for distributing surplus commodities and food stamps to the poor.

Cantrell would provide money for a St. Louis regional center for the mentally retarded, a licensing and inspection system for facilities which are for the mentally retarded, measles vaccine for school children and rasises for juvenile officers.

Today marks the end of the state's 1972 budget year. Cantrell says the final revenue collections ran about $20 million more than expenses. No figures have been provided by revenue and budget officers.
